

Fear Victim of Kidnapers Dead; No Ransom Asked

Officer Thinks Heart Ailment May Have Killed Chicagoan

WIDE HUNT PLANNED

Man Talked With Abduction Victim in Hotel, Officials Told

Chicago—(U)—Fear that Charles S. Ross had died in the hands of his kidnapers increased today as hours passed without word from the retired manufacturer or his abductors. Captain Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police theorized the 72-year-old victim, suffering from high blood pressure and a heart ailment, might have died of shock since he was carried off Saturday night.

His captors, the captain added, might have hidden the body.

Ross was abducted on Wolf road, west of Chicago, as he was driving in from Sycamore with Miss Florence Freihage, 45, office secretary of a greeting card company which Ross headed until his retirement two years ago.

Get First Clue

While officials mobilized 500 officers for an intensive search of the countryside west of the city, the first substantial clue was furnished by employees of the Fargo hotel in Sycamore. Ross and Miss Freihage had dined there Saturday evening.

Captain Gilbert said several bellhops and a desk clerk reported a man in a gray cap had talked with Ross in the lobby while Miss Freihage purchased cosmetics in a nearby drug store.

"It is highly possible," Captain Gilbert pointed out, "that this man was a spotter for the kidnapers."

At the same time, the captain deprecated an early theory that the abductors merely planned to rob Ross. He said:

"I'm certain now that this is a bona fide kidnapping but one done by young punks. There are certain elements in the job that smack of amateurishness."

"I haven't heard a word from the kidnapers," Mrs. Ross said today. "The kids kidnapped him, but I don't know why," she said last night as the twenty-fourth hour passed since the 72-year-old former greeting card manufacturer was forced into a car by one of three gunmen.

Tells of Kidnaping

Miss Freihage, described by Mrs. Ross as a "fine woman" and a "friend of the family," said her former employer invited her to dinner to discuss matters pertaining to the Valentine and greeting card company which he headed until his retirement two years ago. Miss Freihage is secretary for one of the new owners.

"We drove to Sycamore, Ill., she said, "and when we started back I remember a car pulled out of the parking space of the hotel where we dined. It followed us for a great distance."

"Finally Mr. Ross remarked that the car behind him was shining its lights on his mirror. 'I think I'll draw over to the side and let it by,' he said. One man jumped out of the car. Mr. Ross obeyed and at his command got out of the car. I think there were two other men in the car. The one with the pistol said 'this is a snatch; my boss told me to bring you along.'"

Asks About Wealth

"He took Mr. Ross over to the other car. Then he returned and took $85 out of my purse. He says 'you're his secretary; is he good for a half million or a quarter million?' I assured him Mr. Ross had no such wealth."

"The man paid no attention to that. 'You get down on the floor of the car,' he said. 'If you get up I'll shoot you.'"

Miss Freihage was released after being held as a material witness.

Malaya, Java. — (U)—Two were killed and one injured today in a severe earthquake which shook eastern and central Java. There was widespread property damage.

Persistence Is Rewarded

At Pompton Lakes, New Jersey, a fisherman sat all day in a boat but caught nothing. As he started back, he fouled his ear. When he reached to free it, something jumped in his lap. It was a 34-pound bass. Results from Post-Crescent Want Ads don't always pop up so miraculously. Yet, the fisherman's persistence was justly rewarded and so usually is persistent use of the Want Ads.

Supreme Court Waiting for Black Arrival

Tribunal to Reconvene Next Monday for Opening of Fall Term

NO LEGAL OBSTACLE

Former Federal Judge Challenges Former Senator's Right to Post

Washington—(U)—A new black silk robe hung today in a supreme court ante-room awaiting the arrival from Europe of its owner, Justice Hugo L. Black, and the reconvening of the tribunal next Monday.

As the new jurist approached the United States on a small liner, speculation increased as to whether he would issue any statement on allegations that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

When Justice Black arrives Wednesday at Norfolk, Va., President Roosevelt will be in the Far West. The chief executive does not plan to return to Washington until a few days after the court begins a new eight-month term.

Hence, if the new justice decides to don his robes next Monday, it will be before any personal meeting with the president. They might discuss the Klan charges by telephone, however. Mr. Roosevelt said recently at a press conference he had received no word of the allegations before he appointed Black.

Some lawyers say there is nothing to keep the new justice from taking his seat next Monday, even though the president might wish to remove him from the bench.

They point out that the judiciary, congress and the executive branches of the government are made independent of each other by the constitution and that the senate has confirmed the appointment.

A petition, however, has been filed with the court by Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, challenging Black's constitutional right to succeed the retired Justice Willis Van Devanter.

Levitt contended that Van Devanter would have to sever his connection completely by resigning instead of retiring before a vacancy would be created. He argued also that Black was barred on the ground he was a member of "emoluments" of justice by accepting them full pay of $20,000 a year if they retire after they become 70 and have served 10 years.

Levitt either will read his motion in court next Monday or the clerk of the court will present it. What takes place then is up to Chief Justice Hughes and his associates.

Report 300 Killed As Jap Submarine Sinks Chinese Junk

Hong Kong—(U)—Ten survivors declared today 300 men, women and children were killed when a Japanese submarine sank Chinese fishing junks off Cheelungkau point on the South China coast.

Some of the junks were under attack by the British navy and the British naval base started an investigation.

The 10 survivors, all wounded, and their ghastly tale of war on the high seas were brought here aboard the German liner Scharnhorst.

They asserted the Japanese submarine rose to the surface suddenly while they were fishing off Cheelungkau Sept. 22. The underwater craft opened fire and sank the junks.

While the wounded and dying, including 100 women and children, struggled in the water, the submarine steamed away. The survivors said no effort was made to pick up any of the victims.

Two Persons are Critically Hurt In Highway Crash

Four Traffic Accidents Reported Over Weekend In Appleton Area

Three persons were hurt, two critically, in four traffic accidents in the Appleton area over the weekend.

Reinhold Schulze, Brillion, and Roy Hayes, Milwaukee, each suffered a fractured skull in an automobile accident about 7:15 Sunday evening at Greve's Corners.

Three miles north of Brillion, they are confined to the Bellin hospital at Green Bay.

The accident occurred as Schulze, driver rounded a curve and the car went into a ditch.

Gerald, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lotzer, 799 Racine street, Menasha, escaped serious injury when he fell from his father's automobile on Highway 125 west of Neenah about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Thrown to Pavement

The boy grabbed the door handle on the car by mistake when he was going to throw out an apple core. It was reported. The door flew open and the child was thrown to the pavement. He escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The car, Lotzer said, was going about 40 miles per hour at the time. A car owned by Miss Hildegard Fell, Oshkosh, was badly damaged when it backed down a hill off the east end of Lawrence street Saturday morning. It was parked near Ormsby hall when the brakes released. No one was in the car which broke off two power poles before rolling over several times, according to police.

Two cars were slightly damaged about 8:15 Saturday night on E. John street. Robert Hantsch, 1825 S. Celesia street, was traveling east on the street when he was involved.

Negro Convict Shot In California Prison

San Quentin, Calif.—(U)—Another disturbance in a California prison, the third within two weeks, led to the shooting of a convict in San Quentin today by a guard.

The convict, Cecil Duncan, 28-year-old Negro, was shot in the leg from a guard's rifle in the prison yard and ignored warnings to stop. The incident brought quick action from the guard because of the recent bloody outbreak at Folsom state prison and the slugging of Warden James Johnston at Alcatraz federal prison.

Crew Abandons British Ship Wrecked on Reef

St. John's, Newfoundland—(U)—The crew of the British freighter Lashenby abandoned ship today after a mile-long reef on the southern tip of Bell Island today pounded breakers battered the vessel. The captain and crew of 35 of the 5,000-ton vessel which ran aground last night were taken aboard two small steamers.

Spanish Insurgents Claim Important Gain

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Border—(U)—Combined insurgent infantry and aerial attacks, Generalissimo Francisco's commanders reported today, have arrested strategic Mount Ventaniella, on the border of Leon and Oviedo provinces, from the government's Basque army.

Occupation of the government trenches, on a rocky plateau about 5,000 feet high in the western Europa mountains, they said, has brought nearer the junction of Franco's southern and eastern columns converging on Gijon, last government-held port in the Spanish northwest.

The northern insurgent column, advancing west along the bay of Biscay coast, reached a point about three miles east of Amueva. This force is divided into two lines, one heading southwest toward Covadonga and the other toward Rivasdelia, 32 air miles east of Gijon.

Little Action In Assembly On Relief Bill

Senate Passes Correctional Administration Income Tax Measure

VOTE DUE TUESDAY

House to Act on Senate Aid Program at Tomorrow's Session

Madison—(U)—The assembly made little progress on its relief bill today while the senate passed the administration's correctional income tax measure.

The tax commission said the changes were necessary to make sure the state gets $3,000,000 in back income taxes, collection of which was endangered by court decisions invoking the statute of limitations.

This bill will come up in the assembly tomorrow at the same time the much-amended senate relief bill, no longer backed by the administration, is set for a final vote in the senate house.

The assembly, which like the senate inserted in its relief bill a provision that counties receive 10 per cent of their relief costs from the state, will meet again tonight to discuss an amendment by Speaker Paul (P) Pence, designed to raise $5,000,000 for relief through increase of inheritance and gift surtaxes to 50 per cent.

The original bill introduced by the administration in each house, surtaxes were set at 30 per cent to raise $3,000,000 for general emergency relief use.

A motion by Assemblyman Mauritz Fitzsimmons (D), Fond du Lac, to reconsider a vote by which the house amended Alfonsi's amendment, stated action until tonight.

The sub-amendment adopted 52 to 39, would strike out of the bill clause committing the state to payment of relief aids on a percentage basis.

Alfonsi said this change was needed if his amendment, which would appropriate $2,000,000 for 10 per cent payments as well as $3,000,000 for emergency use, is adopted.

Exchange Chiefs In Special Term

Some Operators Lost Half Million in September Corn Dealings

Chicago—(U)—Repercussions of the board of trade's drastic action halting September corn dealings with some operators reported facing estimated losses of half a million dollars, brought directors of the exchange into the special session again today.

Breaking the deadlock between opposing speculative interests in September corn, which in 10 days caused the price of grain to fall between 99 cents and $1.16 a bushel, apparently had not wiped out the middle of traders involved in the deal.

With charges of manipulation reported to be under investigation by exchange officials a thorough study of all events and transactions leading up to the suspension order early Saturday was understood to be under way.

Unusual efforts to bring enough corn into Chicago to make delivery on September contracts by Thursday resulted in receipt of 602 cars of the grain here today, the biggest one-day volume to come to Chicago in months.

Slugged, Robbed of Pockbook in Hotel

Manawa—Albert "Zeb" Guerin, 32, reported today that he was slugged and robbed of a pockbook containing about $200 in cash and $300 in checks early yesterday morning in a hotel at Edgar, Wis.

According to his story, Guerin, a truckdriver for A. Sturm and Sons, was hit on the head as he entered the room and was unconscious for 15 minutes when he recovered, he notified police who began a search for the robber. Guerin received a bad bruise on the head. He returned to his home in Manawa today.

Huge Crowds Cheer Mussolini on Arrival in Berlin With Fuehrer

Berlin—(U)—Premier Mussolini of Italy arrived in this capital of Germany this afternoon, to begin a lavish procession through the streets to the cheers of great crowds.

The guest of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, 51 duce already had seen the might of Germany's army in annual maneuvers and visited today the factories at Essen, whence come German armaments.

His tour through festive streets of Berlin led to the presidential palace, for nine years the official home of the late President von Hindenburg, reserved as 1 duce's residence for the three days he will spend in Berlin.

Perfect autumn weather brightened the Italian chief's arrival, and a setting sun glided the station as a flag-waving, cheering multitude pressed about the railway station.

Essex, Germany—(U)—Mighty motor voice of the Krupp cannon factory roared a warlike welcome today to Premier Mussolini.

Just before he and Reichsfuehrer Hitler strode through the clamor of Germany's "heart of steel," the center of her re-armament, a responsible Italian official said that both German and Italian troops would fight in Spain to the end.

His declaration was made in answer to Spanish government offers to withdraw all foreign troops from their forces if the insurgents would withdraw theirs.

Italy's policy, he declared, will remain as Mussolini has described it, that Italy troops will continue to fight for Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco until Franco wins. He said he presumed the German attitude was the same.

Smoky furnaces belched flame, colossal hammers beat a pandemonium of white hot steel as Hitler and his Italian guest entered the immense plant.

Most of the vast factory—which covers about as much area as the rest of Essen—was kept running so the two leaders could see Germany's greatest arms center in full swing.

Set Up Own Customs Houses in Shanghai, Americans Report

Geneva—(U)—The 23-nation League of Nations advisory committee on the Far East tonight adopted a resolution condemning bombardment of Chinese towns by Japanese airplanes.

The resolution will be submitted to the League of Nations assembly tomorrow.

Geneva—(U)—Japan was denounced before a League of Nations advisory committee today by Britain, France, Sweden, Russia and China for bombardment of Chinese non-combatants.

The committee of 23 nations thereupon recessed and its president, Foreign Minister William Munters of Latvia, ordered drafting of a resolution condemning Japan.

Dr. Wollman, had urged the league to point out Japan as the "wrongdoer to the world," and asked that the committee at least name Japan the aggressor if it cannot go further and "enforce international law and principles of the covenant."

Shanghai—(U)—American business men declared today Japan had established its own customs houses in the Shanghai area in what appeared to be an attempt to throttle American and other foreign commerce in the international settlement and French concessions.

Japanese reinforcements were rushed to the battle front northwest of Shanghai to halt a determined Chinese counter-attack as Japanese warplanes bombed the crowded cities of the eastern coast.

At Canton in the south, the crowded terminus of the Canton to Hankow railroad was fired by the bombs of the air raiders and there were heavy civilian casualties.

The environs of Nanking, the capital, down the Yangtze river, were bombed but Chinese pursuit planes turned back the attackers from the city proper.

British Zone Menaced

A series of heavy explosions rocked Shanghai as Japanese warships and land batteries opened a heavy fire on the North station area. Several shells struck near the British barracks on the north border of the international settlement.

American importers bringing goods into Shanghai on Japanese boats declared the Japanese had established customs depots in the Japanese occupied Yangtze and Hongkong areas of the international settlement and were collecting duty on all imports.

A Chinese spokesman declared they had broken the Japanese attack on the northwestern flank of the battle line in the Liuhong and Lotien sector and recaptured three additional villages.

As the Japanese reinforcements moved into the area to stop the Chinese push, Japanese army officers announced they planned a major drive along the entire front. They said that when it gets under way "it will be like a flood breaking down the dikes."

New Commander

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's first ranking officer, General Chu Shao-Liang, relieved General Chang Chih-Tsung of the command of the Chinese forces in Shanghai today. No reason was given for the change.

General Chu said he was confident of an ultimate Chinese victory no matter how many reinforcements the Japanese may bring in.

"The Japanese infantry is afraid to come out in the open where the Chinese soldiers are superior," he said. "Japan relies mostly on mechanized units, airplanes, artillery and tanks, but never on its infantry."

The Japanese air raiders made three attacks in the vicinity of Nanking, causing some damage and about 50 civilian casualties.

Spanish Loyalist Delegate Assails Reich and Italy

Wants League of Nations to 'Call Bluff' of Fascist Powers

Geneva—(P)—Julio Alvarez del Vayo, Spanish government delegate to the League of Nations, demanded today that the league "call the bluff" of Germany and Italy. "This two-headed monster which appears to want to declare war on all Europe."

The young former minister of foreign affairs created a tense atmosphere with his impassioned appeal and condemnation of German and Italian intervention in the Spanish civil war on the side of the insurgents.

Del Vayo demanded the adoption of five proposals presented by Juan Negrin, Spanish government premier, to the league assembly. They are:

1. Recognition of Italian and German aggression.
2. Study of ways to restrain it.
3. Granting of rights to the Spanish government to buy war materials freely.
4. Withdrawal of all non-Spanish combatants.
5. Extension of the protection of the Nyon anti-piracy patrol to the Valencia regime's shipping on the Mediterranean.

Quoting Roosevelt

A year of Europe's "hands off Spain" policy, Del Vayo declared, "has helped produce a situation admirably described by President Roosevelt in his recent commemorative address on the 150th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States when he said:

"Fear is spread throughout the world; fear of aggression, fear of invasion, fear of revolution, fear of death."

He told the committee on political questions, "the other party to the Spanish conflict, if you wish to reduce the problem to personal terms, is Hitler and Mussolini."

"If the democratic countries declare a collective decision—before it is too late—that peace shall be preserved," he pleaded, "Neither Germany nor Italy nor the two together will dare to start a European war."

"In one or two years it may be too late."

Assails Terrorism

"The free peoples of the world are waiting patiently to emerge from this humiliating situation created by the terrorism of two powers whose lust for hegemony feeds most upon infirmity of purpose," he shouted.

He confronted the league with the alternative of "identifying yourself with ... aggressor states that consider aggression compatible with the system of non-intervention and with the covenant (of the league) or of recognizing non-intervention as a fiction."

"Let there be no mistake," he warned, "The decision taken by this assembly can vitally affect the essential interests of the whole league, the highest moral values of humanity and the future of world peace."

Enrolment at Lawrence

Tops Last Year's Figure

Although exact enrolment figures are not available, the number of students at Lawrence college, not counting those attending the Conservatory, Institute of Paper Chemistry, or taking graduate work, will be 650, about 20 more than were enrolled last year.

Of this number, 330 are men and 320 women. Indications during registration week point toward a senior class larger than usual and a freshman class slightly smaller.

Madison—That Governor LaFollette no longer has the grip on the state legislature he once had was once more demonstrated last week as members of his party bolted outright, and joined forces to riddle his emergency relief program with amendments.

Voting on the relief bill was clearly by sectional instead of party lines, northern Progressives holding to the line faithfully in the assurance that the administration's original bill would provide the bulk of the relief funds for them, while southern, western, eastern members of the LaFollette majority, aided gleefully by Democrats and Republicans, revolted and demanded a slice of the proceeds for their own districts.

As the bill is likely eventually to be rewritten, it would not be surprising to see Governor LaFollette veto it. In fact, administration floorleader, Senator E. M. Rowlands, publicly called upon the governor to veto the measure as amended. "I would lose a lot of respect for the governor if he does not veto this bill," he exclaimed angrily at one point in the debate which waged furiously the last days of last week.

However, the rebellious antics of the legislature did not appear to worry the heads of the government, for four out of five of the constitutionally elected officials were traveling about the country last week.

Early in the week Governor LaFollette and Attorney General Loomis went to New York to participate in the American Legion convention. Sol Levitan, state treasurer, was in California, and Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, was in Texas. Only constitutional officer remaining was Henry Gunderson, the Portage attorney who is lieutenant governor, who last week was acting governor besides having his hands full as the presiding officer of the state senate, an exacting job at best.

Only two senators and 11 assemblymen had perfect attendance records during the 1937 session of the legislature, a tabulation just completed shows.

Among the assemblymen were William J. Sweeney, De Pere Democrat, and Alvin A. Handrich, Wausau county Progressive.

Strangely enough, some of the Progressive floorleaders in the house were absent most, among them Emil Costello and David Sigman, both of whom carry on labor organizing activities as a side line to their lawmaking duties. Costello failed to answer 40 times in 104 roll calls, while Sigman failed to appear at 25 roll calls.

Reports among Democratic legislators in recent weeks that they are seeking a candidacy of A. J. Thelen, formerly of De Pere, now executive secretary of the Wisconsin County Boards association, on the Democratic ticket for governor, receive a strong denial from Thelen.

One of the most influential figures frequenting legislative halls at the capitol, was responsible in large part for the rewriting of the LaFollette relief bill.

Representing 71 county boards, Thelen's suggestions on legislation receive careful and cordial attention from the lawmakers, most of whom are in close contact with the supervisors at home. Many of them were once county board members themselves, and many of them still are, as Senator Mike Mark, Supervisor Ernest Sawd, Representative Frank Panzner, Oakfield, and many others.

Assemblyman Mark Catlin of Appleton, one of the young men from whom the Republicans expect to hear much in subsequent sessions, had his own way of dealing with the emergency relief question, but had some difficulty in persuading his colleagues to adopt it.

Catlin, declaring that the LaFollette measure appropriating $3,000,000 into a free fund to be used by the emergency board whenever and wherever it is necessary had "a million defects," proposed a biennial appropriation to be divided between $1,600,000 as a free fund for emergency purposes, and $1,400,000 to be allocated to counties on the basis

Over 25 Million In Wisconsin Job Insurance Fund

Federal Social Security Board Estimates 411,000 Covered in State

Washington—(P)—Wisconsin, the first state to enact an unemployment insurance law, has $25,061,255.98 to its credit in the unemployment trust fund in the federal treasury.

This includes contributions from employers under the state law together with interest earned by the fund, but does not include benefit payments of $1,200,000 which already have been made.

The social security board estimates 411,000 workers in Wisconsin are covered by the state law.

Federal officials also reported the Badger State has been one of the leaders in utilizing federal funds for paying monthly allowances to the impoverished. The state has received $8,732,595.36 in federal grants for public assistance payments since February, 1936.

Both the number of recipients and the total payments for old age assistance increased last July compared with the same month a year ago. In July, 30,075 persons received $543,870 in this form of aid compared to 36,358 persons in July, 1937 who received $709,938.

Monthly Averages

The average monthly payment in July, 1936, was $18.08, while last July this amounted to $19.53.

Aid to the blind decreased slightly for the same months, the 2,119 recipients dropping to 1,979 in July, 1937 and total payments showing a corresponding reduction from $44,716 in July, 1936 to $43,263 last July.

In July, 1937, total payments for aid to dependent children amounted to $1,048,039 against $820,819 the same month a year ago. The number of children assisted increased from 19,118 in July, 1936 to 21,003 last July. The average payment per family jumped from $28.48 to $32.53.

Social security officials estimate these three forms of aid will cost $1,053,000 in Wisconsin during September.

Records show 63,414 Wisconsin employers have applied for identification numbers for the federal old age pension plan. Applications for social security numbers from Wisconsin amount to 703,017. Benefit payments under this program do not start until Jan. 1, 1942.

Evans Brown Will Give Lyceum Show

Musician, Magician Opens Program Schedule At High School

Evans Brown, accordionist, harpist and magician, will present the first of a series of lyceum numbers for Appleton High school pupils at 9 o'clock Friday morning in the school auditorium.

Mr. Brown is an accomplished musician and a clever magician. His major accomplishment is mastery of the piano accordion and he also plays the harp, piano, Scotch bagpipe and other instruments. In the field of magic, he has invented a number of tricks which are now generally used. He specializes in magic of the Orient.

On Oct. 4, Mona Morgan will present "The Play's the Thing" in the auditorium and on Oct. 5 students will hear Rudolf Reinhold, a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Jobless Urged to Keep Address Data Up to Date

Persons registered in the Appleton office of the Wisconsin public employment service are losing opportunities by not reporting changes of addresses and telephone numbers immediately. F. R. Gehrz, manager, said today.

"Frequently when openings occur and we wish to notify persons registered in our office, we find that the addresses or telephone numbers we have on record are out of date. The telephone numbers are particularly important and should be on record correctly in our office."

8 Communicable Disease Cases Found in County

Eight cases of communicable diseases were reported in Outagamie county during the week ended Sept. 13, according to a report received by Miss Marie Kicin, county nurse, from the state board of health.

Three cases of whooping cough were reported in Appleton, two cases of influenza and one of tuberculosis in Oneida, one case of tuberculosis and one of poliomyelitis in the city of Kaukauna.

PATH OF DEATH IN CHINA SKY

A Japanese aviator met death when his plane was shot down during an aerial duel over Shanghai, crashing in flames with a load of bombs. Smoke from the plane is shown here trailing downward across the sky; the plane itself is hidden behind the cloud. This picture was rushed to the United States by trans-Pacific plane.

Merchant Marine Is Getting to be a Real Headache to Taxpayers

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY

Washington—(P)—Over at the United States maritime commission, they're using harsh words to describe the plight of the American merchant marine. They're saying we won't have any merchant marine to speak of in five years' time, if we don't watch out.

And that's rather disheartening, because the American taxpayer has sunk billions in ship bottoms, and the merchant marine is going to get many more tax dollars.

This merchant marine headache is as sure as death and taxes. There are three reasons:

Foreign powers subsidize their merchant fleets to keep them in the international race for trade, and to provide auxiliary ships for navies in wartime.

Shipbuilding and operating costs are less in every foreign country than in the United States. (Example: In one big country, merchant seamen receive one-fifth as much pay as American seamen.)

Every nation must either build its own merchant fleet or allow foreign shipowners and their governments to dictate rates. If there were no American ships, nothing would permit foreign groups from establishing prohibitive rates for carrying American exports.

Hard To Allot Money

And those are not the only reasons why you can't toss off this merchant marine headache with an aspirin. Joseph P. Kennedy is one, and the American shipping industry is another.

Kennedy is the man who runs the new maritime commission, a bureau created by congress to subsidize American shipping and thereby encourage the building of an American merchant fleet worthy of the name.

Congress told the commission to let American builders have 75 per cent of the cost of building new ships, plus a differential between American and foreign operating costs.

(Example: A shipping firm wants to build a ship and operate it between New York and Liverpool. The government will advance 75 percent of the cost right off the bat. The builder then must agree to pay part of the money back in 20 years. That "part" is the cost of building a similar ship in a foreign yard. This actually may be a third or a half of the cost of building the vessel in the United States. Then the government will figure out how much less it costs a Britisher to operate a similar ship on the same route, and pay that additional sum to the American builder.)

But Kennedy is having a hard time distributing the government's money on that basis. Somewhat puzzled, he has decided to canvass the whole situation. Within a week

Democrats Lag in Pushing Plans for Campaign in 1938

Republicans Still Busy Drafting Plans for Election Next Year

Washington—(P)—Republican leaders, busy pepping up party workers throughout the country, are much further along with their arrangements for the 1938 congressional campaign than are the Democrats.

Chairman John Hamilton today held another in a series of conferences with Republican stalwarts. This time his visitors were 15 representatives of Young Republican organizations, who gathered in advance of a larger meeting of young workers late this fall.

When his conferences are over, Hamilton will have surveyed every phase of party activities. Then he can take the campaign into every state.

Democratic chieftains, on the other hand, have made virtually no preparations on a nationwide scale.

Reprisals Question

Most Democratic workers agree that before they can buckle down to the campaign, the question of reprisals against senators who opposed the Roosevelt court bill must be settled. Party stalwarts who believed President Roosevelt might make clear his attitude on reprisals during his western trip have received no hint of it so far. He has not mentioned court reorganization specifically in any of his rear platform speeches.

On the Republican side, the dominant unsettled issue is whether to call a special national convention next year to formulate the party's stand on major questions. Although the organization efforts are being directed toward the 1940 presidential race, Hamilton has expressed the opinion that the Republicans will gain seats in both senate and house next year.

One-third of the senate, in addition to the entire house of 455 members, will be chosen at that time. All but four of the senators whose terms expire are Democrats. The four Republicans are Davis of Pennsylvania, Gibson of Vermont, Nye of North Dakota, and Steiwer of Oregon.

Drunken Driver Loses License for 6 Months

Andrew H. Reinke, 21, route 3, Appleton, who pleaded guilty in municipal court Saturday of drunken driving, was fined $50 with an alternative of 60 days in the Outagamie county detention camp by Judge Thomas H. Ryan under the state law this morning. His driver's license was ordered revoked for six months.

Judge Ryan remitted the fine under the state law, upon payment of the $50 fine and costs Reinke was ordered to pay under the city ordinance.

war found American traders helpless to meet foreign competition because Americans couldn't get ships to carry their goods. It seems Great Britain recalled all her bottoms for national service, and the result was a loss of millions to American farmers and other exporters.

Despite that lesson, American ships were carrying less than 10 per cent of the goods we sold to the rest of the world in 1910. By 1914 we were pouring taxpayers' money into a merchant marine. Then, during the World war we sunk three billions in a "bridge of ships" to Europe.

Now the companies are complaining that the new law has too many safeguards for the government, and not enough for builders. They say there's going to be no end of argument over the foreign differentials.

So Kennedy and his commission have discovered they have something more than a long-term job on their hands. Privately, Kennedy himself says he's got the loudest job in Washington.

Our Steady Decline

What do you think? Here's the problem and it, history, briefly:

With a measure of government aid, infant America had built enough bottoms to carry 90 per cent of her cargoes by 1850, and the American clipper was the proudest merchantman afloat.

Hears New Note In President's Cheyenne Speech

Lawrence Explains Significant Statements Made By Roosevelt

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—President Roosevelt has started off his western trip in a highly creditable manner. His off-hand, impromptu remarks at Cheyenne reveal a president in a good mood.

The key to a man's mind is often to be found in casual comments. The speech at Cheyenne is in that respect all-revealing. Mr. Roosevelt knows that, back east, they are worrying about the government's seemingly endless spending and that to no small extent the present upset in the markets is due to a feeling of despair about the fiscal future of the government.

So the president undertakes an unpleasant task, but does it with good-natured euphemism. He says the last of the public works money is being awarded. He speaks of "the greater part of the emergency" as being over, and he pointedly remarks that "we have to come some day to an end of the greater part of that program" of spending, and lending which has been going on for several years now.

This was a significant thing to say as Mr. Roosevelt stood at the gateway to the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states. For a recapitulation of expenditures of the last few years will show that, in 11 states, nearly three and a half billion dollars was expended. Last summer, as I visited this same western territory, I wrote some comments on the problem of what these states were going to do, what kind of an economy was going to support their people when the federal subsidy was really withdrawn. The contingency is here sooner than expected.

It begins to appear as if the president is warning the west that it must start now to think in terms of self-reliance. This is an important point of view to convey. Mr. Roosevelt, of course, has yet to visit the big dams and construction projects of the far west and he will not doubt have to promise some continuing aid on the big reclamation projects there, but the old "liberalism" of unrestrained spending is over and the west might as well know the pocketbook of the east, which pays the tax bill, is getting a bit strained.

Significant Statement
Incidentally, the president made another significant statement in his Cheyenne speech. He said: "Yes, it is a part of the duty of the presidency to represent, in so far as possible, all the people, not just Democrats, but Republicans as well, not just rich people but poor people as well."

This is a broad viewpoint not found in his previous speeches this year, and, coming at this particular moment, is, indeed, refreshing. For recently there has been a good deal of stir about the implications of Mr. Roosevelt's pointed reiteration of the "majority rule" concept of the New Deal and the belief that it may represent an arbitrary attitude toward minorities who are supposed to be protected against majority excesses by constitutional guarantees.

Mr. Roosevelt's omission of any reference to the controversy over the supreme court enlargement may mean that he feels he said all he needs to for the present on that subject in his Constitution day address. The subtle ceremony which grew out of a political desire to administer a bit of a slap at a Democratic senator like Mr. O'Mahoney, who stood by his convictions on the court packing bill, were not, of course, lost on the purely political elements in Wyoming. Mr. O'Mahoney, who stood by his convictions on the court packing bill, were not, of course, lost on the purely political elements in Wyoming. Mr. O'Mahoney did the right thing in going to the train and welcoming the president to Wyoming. The fact that he wasn't invited beforehand will be construed for its obvious purpose of party discipline only by a handful of the politically active.

Vittorio Is a Cinch to Win in Picture Business

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York—What a remarkable young man this is, to be sure, this 21-year-old son of Benito Mussolini, who, without previous experience in the moving picture business, becomes one of the leading Italian producers. Vittorio Mussolini has come to this country to study American methods for a few days, and on his return to Italy will produce movies in co-operation with Mr. Hal Roach. His success is assured before he begins, because failure is not a habit of the Mussolinis. His father's own newspaper is proof of that.

It is a matter of pride, not to say prudence, in Italy to subscribe to the Duce's newspaper and advertise in the same.

The circulation manager has an easy time and never is reduced to the necessity of promoting amateur prizefights in which little gladiators get their little ears punched off and their little brains scrambled in order to sell papers. He doesn't have to give away dictionaries or sets of Dickens as premiums for subscriptions or run cross-word puzzles to make circulation, and the promotion manager has no problems at all.

The reason for this is that the editor usually has a break of from twelve to twenty-four hours on big news developments, which makes it necessary for all the other Italian papers to quote from and thus advertise the Duce's own paper.

whereas Mr. O'Mahoney's presence at the train shows there was nothing personal in his unwillingness to be a "rubber stamp" senator on the president's proposal to break down our judiciary traditions. It is yet too early to know whether Mr. Roosevelt will or will not encourage reprisals against Democratic senators who didn't vote with him on his court plan. Maybe by 1940, Mr. Roosevelt himself will want to forget the court controversy. Much depends on how the Ku Klux Klan aspect of the Black episode turns out in the long run. There is evidence that, as an issue, it is cutting deep among the people who, in the last election, supported Mr. Roosevelt enthusiastically, though, of course, the usual cry is raised hereabouts by anti-union apologists that only the anti-Roosevelt groups of the last campaign care about the issue.

Not Easily Dismissed
There are people who care more about the material and financial benefits they get out of New Deal legislation than about religious tolerance and there are senators and representatives who want to keep on getting patronage and public funds for their states who are publicly minimizing the Klan controversy, but experience shows it is not the kind of an issue easily dismissed or laughed off.

I do not share, on the other hand, the view that Mr. Roosevelt ran away from the Black issue by going west. He cannot escape it if he tried. My feeling is that he feels the awkwardness of the situation as much as anybody else. But what can he do? He cannot ask Mr. Black to resign, unless he does it informally and in the utmost privacy, and this would be a bad precedent in itself. Mr. Black has been confirmed. He has taken the oath. The matter is formally out of the hands of the president and the senate too.

But the question of whether Mr. Black is constitutionally eligible is before the supreme court at its October term. That tribunal has a position before it relating to a constitutional question wholly apart from any Klan membership or non-membership. This will be disposed of after the court convenes next week.

The Klan issue will be debated, however, no matter what the outcome. Many well-meaning people, for instance, are saying that "everybody in the south" joined the Klan and that it was like joining the Knights of Columbus or the Masons or any other fraternal order. The difference, however, is that not one of these lodges or societies ever required an oath pledging members to see to it that no persons of the opposite faith or creed or color held office in our government. The Klan had such an obligation and it was widely known. Hence, when Mr. Black took the oath, he was subscribing to the narrowest and most intolerant doctrine in the world. An ignorant rustic might not understand it, but a candidate for the United States senate should have known the meaning of the Klan oath.

It is the fact that Mr. Black did not have sufficient gumption to resist that kind of thing, that he didn't follow the lead of a man of the high character of Senator Oscar Underwood, who retired as majority leader and member of the United States senate rather than accept Klan support—this is the real reason why the Black appointment is reprehensible. By this time, the president, who is a good political observer, doubtless shares the same view, though he may not show it, and, besides, he probably thinks public opinion will manifest itself in due time on the subject of Hugo Black.

Pupils Display Garden Produce At School Fair

More Than 100 Exhibits at Maple Grove Event in Town of Freedom

Freedom—Pupils of the Maple Grove school in the town of Freedom held a school fair and educational program Friday evening under the direction of Arnold A. Schultz teacher.

The fair included a display of orchard, garden and field products and over a hundred exhibits were placed. The seventh and eighth grade agricultural class of seven members did the judging and awarded 63 first prizes, 28 second prizes and 11 third prizes.

A sand table project showing a county fair with its attractions and displays was worked out by the lower grades for the fair.

Community singing was followed by two educational talks and several contests. Emil Muller, Jr., discussed the history and uses of corn with the development of the newer hybrid varieties and the products of seed corn. The talk was illustrated with specimens of common and hybrid varieties.

Walter P. Hagman, director of the Outagamie Rural Normal school, described his recent European tour. Mrs. Victor Muenster won a balloon blowing contest and Miss Lucille Sievert a clothes pin contest. In the corn husking contest Albert Sievert took first place. Buster Vander Loop won the prize in the contest of wriggling through sections of auto innertubes. Lunch was served.

The cost of living for a manual worker's family of four persons is higher in Washington, D. C., than in any other city of the United States, a government survey shows. Second highest cost city was San Francisco and third was Minneapolis. Lowest in a list of 59 cities was Mobile, Ala.

Government, Wars to Be Studied in Classes

Contemporary government issues and problems and the international picture, especially as it relates to war in the Far East and Spain, will be studied in two courses which will be offered at the vocational school this fall.

In the first course, government and current problems, students will study and discuss such subjects as the supreme court proposal, government's part in the relief program, and the social security plan. The class in current history will delve into the two wars, Spanish and Sino-Japanese, now raging, studying their causes and effects and the outlook as it will affect other countries in the world.

Registration at the vocational school will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Soloists, Choir On Artist Series

James Melton, Tenor, Will Open College Concerts Nov. 11

Four soloists and one choral organization will be presented this year on the Community Artist series at Memorial chapel under the sponsorship of Lawrence college this year.

James Melton, noted radio and screen tenor, will open the series Nov. 11. Harold Bauer, pianist, will play at the chapel on the night of Dec. 3 and the next day will meet informally with music students. Stephen Hero, violinist, son-in-law of Jose Iturbi, famous pianist and conductor, will appear at the chapel on the night of Jan. 10. The college A Cappella choir will present its annual concert on Feb. 16 and on March 24, Rose Brampton, one of the best of the younger contraltos, will close the series.

Iowa has one child in school for each four persons in the population.

New York Relief Official to Take Jane Addams' Job

Former Policewoman, Vassar Grad, Will be in Charge of Hull House

New York—(4)—The jovial, efficient woman destined to succeed Jane Addams as head of Chicago's famous Hull House came out of her inner office in the congested old municipal building and greeted us with a hearty handshake.

Without benefit of buzzers or secretaries, we—the photographer and I—found ourselves within a large map-lined room and in the midst of an informal interview, almost before we knew it.

Charlotte Carr, chief of New York's City Emergency Relief Bureau, talked unhesitatingly and readily about her duties as police-woman in a New York industrial area, secretary of labor in Pennsylvania, and problem-solver for New York's half million relief cases.

Eager For New Work
But not about Hull House, to which she goes in October. She doesn't feel she knows enough about it to talk—yet.

"Don't say I'm going to fill the shoes of Jane Addams," she admonished. "No one could do that. I can only hope to carry out the social principles she instituted. And that's going to be a tough job."

I asked: "Won't life be quieter at Hull House than here at the ERB?" (Miss Carr has weathered two stormy years in the bureau, the target of aldermanic charges that Communists influenced her relief-giving.)

"People," she responded, "make the atmosphere, don't you think? I certainly don't consider my move to Hull House a step toward retirement. There'll be plenty to work for and fight for. Hull House can be a tremendous influence in Chicago, particularly in difficult labor situations."

Knows Industry First-Hand
Miss Carr's views on labor are those of a woman who has seen the effects of long working hours on factory girls when she patrolled New York streets in an industrial area. "My interest in industry began when I saw those girls coming out of factories at all hours of the night, after working 12 or 14 hours. Then it was easy to comprehend problems of delinquency."

She saw the importance of organized labor when she was assistant employment manager of a New York concern where organized workers on one floor worked an eight-hour day and unorganized workers on the floor above worked ten hours.

"My belief in trade unions is an axiom," she said unqualifiedly. She worked in a factory. She visited factories in England. She handled cases for the State Charities Aid Association, the New York Bureau of Women in Industry, and the Pennsylvania Bureau for Women and Children.

Gives Credit to Luck
"I've never come to any conclusions through generalization," she said. "I don't have to. I've seen the thing too clearly in real life." Most remarkable of all was her first job. Matron of an orphan asylum immediately after graduation from Vassar. "But I won't tell you where it was," she chuckled.

Incidentally, she finished Vassar in three years. Not because she was bright, she insists, but because of super-boarding school preparation. Specialized in economics, though with no great intensity.

"I didn't prepare myself particularly for my career," she explained. "And most of it has been amazing good luck."

4-H Club Preparing

For Achievement Day
Special awards will be given for the best 4-H club books on various projects when the annual Achievement day program is held, according to Chester A. Dumond, assistant agricultural agent of Outagamie county.

The Achievement day program will be held on Saturday, Nov. 13. Club leaders are reminded by Dumond that record books should be sent in to the county agent's office by Oct. 10. Record books on planning, foods and nutrition, home economics, boy and girl junior leaders, agriculture, soils and dairies should be submitted by Oct. 10 so that persons selected winners will have time to make out the required standard reports and write their own 750-word stories and have them returned to the office by Oct. 10.

POISON KILLS CATTLE
Raymond, Calif. — (7) — An unknown plant poison is believed by authorities to be the cause of numerous deaths among cattle in the mountain ranges near this town. A number of poisonous plants grow in the region but as a rule insects, snakes and cats away from them.

Massachusetts is the second most densely populated state in the union, with 514 persons to the square mile.

SCIENTISTS SCALE LOFTY MESA SEEKING LINK WITH PAST

A link with the past is sought by scientists who have scaled the precipitous walls of towering Shiva Temple, a lofty mesa in Grand Canyon which is believed to have been isolated from changes of the earth since the ice age. First specimens captured in the "Lost Forest" included rabbits, squirrels, chipmunks and mice which will be compared with other specimens to determine if isolation has been complete.

What's New at the Library

The whole panorama of American society, the development and changes that have formed it as it exists today, is set down by Dixon Wecter in "The Saga of American Society," one of the new books at Appleton Public Library. The author writes wittily, accurately and with insight into human nature, and without either attacking or defending society and its leaders, present or past, he tells the story. A good bit of research lives behind the writing of this book, making it possible for the author to deliver every page with sparkling and often hilarious incidents from the lives of the socially prominent. Here are the Cabots and the Saltonstalls of Boston, the Vanderbilts and Astors of New York, the Cadwaladers and Biddles of Philadelphia, the Wyatts and Throckmorts of Virginia and the Palmers and McCormicks of Chicago. The book gives the origin of our social registers and their requirements.

On the heels of such volumes as "Live Alone and Like It," "Wake Up and Live," and "Streamlining Your Mind" comes a book by James Thurber entitled "Let Your Mind Alone," which brings a cheering word for the defeated. The author propounds the idea that the old-fashioned technique of thinking was good enough for our fathers and should be good enough for us. The undisciplined mind as against the disciplined or streamlined kind has distinct and comfortable advantages, he holds. "The Breaking Up of the Winships" which appeared in the New Yorker is one of the highlights of the pieces.

"Is there no alternative to fascism, communism or terrorism?" is the question which Walter Lippmann answers in his new book, "The Good Society." It falls into two parts, the first showing the errors and common fallacies of the existing governmental faiths, and the second giving reasons why liberalism lost sight of its purpose. In the first part he shows that followers of all governmental faiths believe the same fundamental doctrine, and in the second he supplies the principle on which liberalism can grow again. The revival of liberalism is inevitable, he says, because no other system of government can work given the kind of economic world under which man must live.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor continue to make the front pages every once in a while, keeping alive interest in this romance which nearly tore England asunder. The complete history behind the headlines of the story of the stormy months in England from the death of George V down through the ab-dition of Edward and his subsequent marriage to Wallis Warfield are given by Philip Gibbs in his book, "Ordeal in England." Gibbs, the best informed and most completely trusted journalist in Europe today, gives the soundest, most accurate and in many ways the most sensational account of the affair and the crisis it precipitated in Buckingham Palace and Downing street. He pictures the deepening crisis of Europe, the conflict of nations and statesmen, the situations which are still holding the world breathless and waiting for the incident which may throw all civilization into war.

The story of one episode in the current Spanish conflict is given in "The Siege of Alcazar" by Geoffrey McNeill-Moss who was on the ground immediately after the siege and talked with survivors. They told him of those 70 days in which a thousand officers, soldiers and guards together with their wives and children locked themselves in the ancient Moorish fortress and withstood the assaults of many thousand government volunteers armed with planes, cars, tanks, machine guns and dynamite, and the author has set the story down in diary form.

Franklin P. Adams, familiarly known as F. P. A., has published a volume of verse entitled "The Melancholy Lite." A sample which sets the keynote of gaiety and charm in this collection of songs of 30 years is given here: "Journalism's a shrew and scold; I like her. She makes you sick, she makes you old; I like her. She's daily trouble, storm and strife; She's love and hate and death and life; She ain't no lady—she's my wife; I like her."

The death of Marconi was sure to bring out many biographies of the man. One of the first of these is "Marconi, the Man and His Wireless" by Orrin E. Dunlap, which is not only a portrait of Marconi but also a comprehensive history of radio, for the invention and inventor are inseparable. It touches on many historic events, the heroic and dramatic role of Marconi wireless in the Republic disaster and the Titanic's mid-ocean tragedy, and relates the hectic rush to develop new radio devices for use in the World war which led to the development of short waves, globes, and beams and the race of nations to establish world-wide communication systems in competition with the cables.

"Children in the Family" by Harold H. Anderson is a comprehensive, practical and interesting treatment of the wholesome rearing for physical, mental and emotional well-being of the child of preschool age.

Letters discovered about the middle of 1936 which were written by Julia Wedgwood to Robert Browning revealed a broken friendship and a hitherto unguessed romantic episode in Browning's life. Edited by Richard Curle, the letters of both Browning and Miss Wedgwood are now published as a rare literary find. Browning's letters came to light through the death in 1935 of Miss Wedgwood's younger sister, but it was not until 1936 that the other half of the correspondence was discovered.

One of the most distinguished and widely known art critics in America, C. J. Bulliet, evaluates the art movement which began with Cézanne and ended with Picasso in a new book, "The Significant Moderns." Bulliet believes in letting the masterworks speak for themselves and has persuaded his publishers to the extravagance of including reproductions of 276 great paintings in the book. The text is as brief as possible, intended only to intensify the perceptions of the reader in his study of the works themselves and to place them in their proper historical perspective.

Nearly All State Roads Have Some Type of Surfacing

Wisconsin Third in Miles Of Improved Highways Over Two Lanes

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—At the first of this year, 89 per cent of the entire Wisconsin state highway system was surfaced roads, according to the report from the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Of the total 10,011 miles of road in Wisconsin, 4,424 were paved, 3,709 miles were treated macadam and gravel and only 1,818 were untreated macadam and gravel. Eighty-one per cent of these roads were dustless.

Wisconsin is third in the number of miles of improved highways over two lanes in width. New York leads in the number of miles of highways over two lanes wide and Pennsylvania is second. Wisconsin has 14 miles of six-lane highways, while Michigan, topping all states in this respect, has seventy miles of six-lane highways.

Wisconsin received a total of $38,225,000 from motor fees, gas tax and federal funds in 1936 and the state highway department spent $40,369,000. Of the total income, $18,027,921 was collected in state and federal gas tax, $14,143,633 of which went to the federal government—but the state highway department received $9,137,000 in federal funds.

According to the Association's report, most of the money collected from gasoline taxes goes directly back to the states for actual highway expenditures, contrary to a statement recently published by the American Petroleum Institute that "motorists are being made the tax-goats of the nation, that millions of the dollars that they pay allegedly for the use of roads are diverted to non-highway purposes."

Beware Kidney Germs if Tired, Nervous, Aching

Are you Run Down, Nervous, suffer Aching or Swollen Joints? Do you Get Up Nights, or suffer from Burning Passages, Frequent Headaches, Leg Pains, Backache, Dizziness, Furry Eyes, Loss of Appetite and Energy? If so, the true cause often may be germs developed in the body during colds, or by bad teeth or tonsils that need removing. These germs may attack the delicate membranes of your kidneys or bladder and often cause much trouble. Ordinary medicines can't help much because they don't fight the germs. The doctor's formula Cystex, now stocked by all druggists, starts fighting kidney germs in 3 hours and must prove entirely satisfactory in 1 week and be exactly the medicine you need or money back is guaranteed. Telephone your druggist for Cystex (Sis-Sex) today. The guarantee protects you. Copr. 1937 The Knox Co.

Course to be Given in Preparation of Salads

During the last few years, salads have assumed a significant place on the every-day menu and a class in their preparation will be offered in the home-making division of the vocational school this fall.

Pointing out that men have become salad-conscious and are even prescribing the kind of dressing they want, Miss Mabel Burke, head of the home-making division, says that it is necessary for house-mothers and hostesses to pay considerable attention to this phase of the meals they serve.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Must be nice to have a fan club. Craig Reynolds thinks it is, and he ought to know. He has two.

A fan club, in case you haven't joined one, is a sort of chamber of commerce (at large) devoted to but one cause: the boosting of its pet movie player.

If you're an actor in pictures, all you need to have a fan club is enough admirers to start one. One fan will write you first, requesting permission to form an organization. You'll grant it, and how. Not merely because you're flattered like everything, but because you're smart and you know where your bread, butter, and swimming pool money comes from.

They Get Results
The organizer usually becomes president of the club, and pretty soon—because movies are seen in many places at the same time, and fans are fans the world over—the club gets members and more members. One member may live in Arizona and another in Weehawken, but they have a strong common bond in their devotion to you, their favorite movie actor. Of course they may belong also to other fan clubs that boost other actors, but that doesn't detract from their loyalty to you.

And if you think from an actor's point of view, a fan club is a silly business, you're off base. Take it from Reynolds, who appreciates his, that a fan club is something to have.

"You get a bunch of friends, most of whom you've never seen personally, pulling for you to succeed in this business and you've no idea how it helps," he says. "Not only the good will angle, but the practical things they do. They write fan letters, knowing what those mean in the studio's eyes. When a picture of yours is playing, they'll go in a body—and afterward, they'll talk loudly enough about your performance to make the exhibitor will hear them. They're loyal, and they'll look for ways and means of helping you get places."

The fan club gets out a newspaper devoted solely to a record of club matters and the actor's career. Imagine coming home from the studio, after the director has bawled you out, to pick up a newspaper devoted exclusively to you and your fan club. (Craig's is called the "Reynolds Rumpus.")

Offer Good Criticism
In return for all this, the actor sees to it that his exhibitors get frequent, individual gifts of personally autographed pictures. And he's nice to visiting club members when they come to Hollywood, as sooner or later they do.

Under the impression that a fan club constituted the last word in societies for those with nothing to do, I was surprised to hear Reynolds' testimony that the letters he gets are usually serious and intelligent criticism rather than meaningless gush.

When the president of his bigger fan club came to town, he was so impressed with her intelligence that he made her his secretary. She still is.

Elks to Present Minstrel Show at Civic Auditorium

Performances Will be Given Wednesday and Thursday Nights

Kaukauna—Almost 20 years have passed since the last Elks' minstrel show played to a capacity house but now the stage is set again and black faced comedians again will present their antics under the supervision of the Elks Wednesday and Thursday nights at the civic auditorium.

The first half of the show consists of a number of skits and dances forming a colorful revue. Much of the outstanding talent of Kaukauna, Little Chute and surrounding communities have been rehearsing gaily under the direction of William Raterman of the John B. Rogers Producing company of Fostoria, Ohio, the company which has produced most of the local talent shows in Kaukauna for the last 30 years.

Outstanding in the revue will be the clever dancing of some fifty high school girls in appropriate costumes, Lucille Berg, Arlene Van Gompel, Gladys Gilkey, Lorraine Trueman, Gladys Dick, Grace Nagan, Rita Belongia, Lillian Vils, Anna Mae Nyles, Irene Hawley and Grace Schydzik participate in one of the most colorful numbers.

The second or minstrel part of the production "Pirate Gold," is laid aboard the ship "Jolly Roger." Captain Fay Posson directs things aboard ship, where Pat McAndrews, O. A. Fiedler, Herman Maes, Ernest Rohan, Ray Hansen, Ken Schmitzler, Roy Shermittler, Leo Weigman, Harry Treptow, Jr., Robert Kindler, Henry Niesen, Roman Haupt, Jack VanLeishout, James Judd, Leo Conrad, Lester Brenzel, Shou Spindler and Mark Van Liechout pose as pirates. Mel Raught, Owen Kitto, B. D. Rice, Lawrence Kroll, Tony Berkers and Jack Taylor are the black-faced comedians taking the part of slaves.

"Pirate Gold," will be given two nights, Wednesday and Thursday of this week at the Kaukauna Civic auditorium. Seat reservations may be made by holders of advance sale tickets at either Toonen's or Looks' Drug stores beginning today. Tickets may also be purchased at these stores.

There will be a special school children's matinee given on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Chimney Sparks Start Residence Roof Fire

Kaukauna—Two calls were answered by the Kaukauna fire department about 8 o'clock Saturday night.

A spark from the chimney ignited the roof of the Hugo C. Lemke residence, 323 Taylor street, the fire being quickly extinguished. Damages were estimated at less than $25.

The fire department was also called to the city dump when nearby residents complained of the smoke from burning tarpaper. The fire was put out.

SOTAL TO MEET
Kaukauna—The Sons of the American Legion will hold a regular business meeting at 7:30 Friday evening at the Legion hall.

The first prizefight film was that made of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in 1937.

Riedel Child Succumbs At Little Chute Home

Little Chute — Gerald Riedel, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Riedel, died Friday afternoon at the home of his parents in this village after a short illness. He is survived by his parents, four sisters and two brothers. Burial took place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. John cemetery. The Rev. John J. Sprangers was in charge of the service at the grave.

TINKLE OF THE LAMB'S BELL

When Mr. Harding was president and made some thoroughly awful appointments the liberals of the country, including the great Norris, spoke frankly and with unsparing truth.

Among other things they orally wondered why a good man like Harding, sound of heart and brain, could persist in supporting his appointees even after their rank unfitness had been demonstrated. They said that if they were running the nation and made mistakes they would not be prevented by pride of opinion from correcting them.

Much the same sort of argument was released by the same sources when President Hoover permitted himself to be cajoled and misdirected by such scalawag bigots as Bishop Cannon and others.

But now, when a rank odor is sifting through their own house, and the hooded hoodlums are cavorting on prancing horses in public places, they are following in the rut made by Mr. Harding and continued by Mr. Hoover.

Senator Norris and H. E. Barnes, an important liberal writer, come to the front page at the same time in defense of the indefensible Black.

Yes, they do not like the Klan. And yet they try to soften its application of Italian medieval banditry to the American republic.

Senator Norris thinks Mr. Black "an able and shrewd lawyer." How did he ever find that out? No one else ever discovered the fact.

When a man has been a lawyer for 18 years and upon his fortieth birthday is directing a dinky police court principally concerned with negro crap shooters it is a cinch that he has been hiding his ability and his shrewdness somewhere.

But that is somewhat beside the point. Ability, important as it is, is secondary to character.

And the liberals who could damn the Klan when it seemed about to run organized government in the ditch but who will gulp it down to save one of their own associates, who had even been fooling them, are hardly to be distinguished from those who were the objects of their criticism under Harding and Hoover.

When the liberals came to power it seems they preached a different sermon than when they were trying to get to power.

When this Klan story broke the Post-Crescent prophesied that the Klan would be doled up in new clothes and a benevolent smile painted on its heavy jaws to offset the grim and murderous light it had carried in its eyes. Now the purity bath is here and the whole defense is just as clever and just as shrewd, and no more so, than the old gag about to be sprung in defense of the killers of General Denhardt that the latter reached for a gun while he was running like a turkey gobbler to save his life.

Up in this country we have had a fair vision of the Klan, indeed, an excellent example. It was called the Black Legion over in Detroit. The Detroit Klan differed from the southern Klan only in the fact that the Detroit authorities were neither controlled nor controllable. The Klan members there are serving life terms for just about as ruthless, wanton and unprovoked killings as could be conjured up in the minds of maniacs.

We like to listen to Senator Norris and Mr. Barnes. But it will take more than maple syrup to induce the people to gulp down the soft speeches they are now making about the Klan.

DOES PROSPERITY FAINTER?

Are the mud embankments called the financial policies of this administration beginning to crack?

The bad signs on the horizon need not be enlarged or read by a pessimist to get down to the facts.

In practically all the shadows upon the future excessive taxation plays a substantial, sometimes a major part. Distress is now evident generally in two spots, first, the business that cannot raise its prices or charges but is being weighted down by heavier exactions everywhere, and too, the business that finds increased taxes upon its product made necessary by increased costs invites abandonment of buying by the public, sometimes even a strike like the recent one against the prices of certain foods.

Three of the eastern railroads have just laid off 25,000 men. They declare that rising costs of operation including ever increasing taxes make retrenchment necessary.

Whose fault is this? Certainly not that of the railroads. They have worked like demons to make their lines and their service attractive to the public. Their cars represent the very quintessence of ease and comfort. Their table service is not only fine but constantly rendered to the public at a loss, just as another feature to please the public palate. They have literally spent tens of millions of dollars for improving service. But they do not make money like the mint, and what the government takes they cannot pay the men.

Again, when people do not travel you will find it is because they do not have the money. And when people are at work and yet do not have money it is either because they do not receive enough money or someone takes too much of it away from them.

The reader is just as able as the Post-Crescent to determine whether incomes are generally sufficient and who, if anyone, depletes the treasury.

But the real black cloud on the sky is the fact that the government of the United States, directly and indirectly, both openly and stealthily, is already taking by far too great a share of every pay envelope.

And yet it is not taking in nearly enough to pay its way.

Under the leadership of the man dubbed the Great Humanitarian by his friends, and rechristened by others the Great Spendthrift, we will be furnished with plenty of reasons and alibis. The present one is the supreme court. If the court isn't the cause of all our woes and our dangers, surely a versatile administration will be able to find something more plausible, possibly the boll weevil.

PORTUGAL TALKS TURKEY

Sometimes it takes a little nation like Portugal, and despite all her faults, and they are legion, to show great nations the flaws in their policies.

This Portugal did in her reply to Mr. Hull's July statement of peace principles. Mr. Hull, it will be remembered, outlined policies that should guide the nations in their international obligations, non-interference in other countries, reduction of armaments, liberal trade policies, and other moderate practices, to assure peace.

Portugal subscribes to these ideas all right. It would require the cynicism of Lucifer to do otherwise. But she takes occasion to analyze in critical form, and one might think a bit impatiently, the effort at friendly approach in a world where friendliness is cold to frigidity.

First Portugal declares it is an attachment to false ideas to entrust the solution of problems to "vague formulae and inconsistent combinations" and proceeds to examine into what she terms "the inanity of the efforts" in that regard without the indispensable preparation of the ground for constructive effort, and then proceeds:

"Everyone desires peace, everyone proclaims the sanctity of treaties and the faithful compliance therewith, everyone desires that there be fewer difficulties in international trade and everyone wishes to have the burden of armaments removed or lightened. "Difficulties begin only when it is sought to pass from the field of intention into that of action, or, more concretely, what is to be done so that the events will not contradict the good intentions?"

Aye, that is the difficulty! Portugal does not deny that the repeated affirmation of principles will bring "certain moral pressure" into their fulfillment but insists that "we would be mistaken if we were to expect important results therefrom."

Coldly and methodically, but with much accuracy, the Lisbon diplomat marshaled his facts into a conclusion that is well worth reading:

"If there exists a danger or preoccupation of war, it is useless to attempt to have the states disarm or reduce their armaments: if there exist grave injustices in the solution of problems of international affairs and no peaceful method is seen to make them disappear, it is useless to dissuade the victims thereof to cause justice to be respected by force, if they have it; if the nations by virtue of their own excesses or because they are exposed to the mistakes of others, must defend their economy and their financial balance, and deem it necessary to do so by raising tariffs, devaluating currency or prohibiting the entry of workers or foreign goods, they will do so, even though they should not seek in that policy their true and ultimate interests and even though they should have taken at one time or another the solemn engagement to refrain from doing this."

We think the closing declaration which is tantamount to saying that governments do the wrong thing and turn away from their own ultimate good merely to maintain themselves in the saddle is in reality a biting stricture upon politics.

The French government can obtain power from the people to do almost anything if those people believe the policy will injure Germany. The same thing may be said concerning every nation in Europe insofar as its policies are thought by the people to affect some traditional enemy.

Nor has America been untouched by this world weakness. Even as we follow Mr. Hull's excellent plan of individual trade treaties to the mutual advantage of our nation and those with whom we deal the results are wholly misrepresented to great numbers of our people who do not see beyond the fact that perhaps Canada sends in a carload of cheese or Argentine some hides.

The Portuguese diplomat who wrote that note for his government was blessed with the ability of precise measurement and a candor not common in chancelleries.

CHANGING SEASONS
(As Viewed by the Pessimist)

Springtime brings the flooded rivers,
Water surging through the street;
Muddy back-yards, soiled linoleum,
Dirt tracked in by children's feet.
Summer brings flies and mosquitoes,
And the burning, blistering heat.
Shoes discarded in the office,
And the smell of (Jonah, you finish it!) me.)
Autumn brings the chilly rain-storms,
Sniffing nose and stuffed up head;
And for poor hay-fever sufferers,
All the noxious weeds they dread.
Winter brings the icy breezes,
Frost-nipped finger-tips and toes,
Coal bills, taxes, Christmas presents,
Purses drained for winter clothes.

But Then Again—
(As Viewed by the Optimist)

Springtime brings the sweet wild-flowers,
Brooks are babbling happy tunes,
Grass is green, the trees are budding,
To his mate the wild-bird croons.
Summer brings the golden sunshine,
Roses blooming everywhere,
School-days ended; children playing,
Joyous, gay and free from care.
Autumn—ah, what wondrous beauty!
Green leaves changed to gorgeous hues;
In the coolness of the office,
People even wear their shoes.
Winter brings the fleecy snowflakes,
Falling softly to the ground;
And the merry Christmas season.
Peace and joy and love abound.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

GOOD LUCK WILL COME!

Who knows what moment good luck will come,
Winging its way through the autumn haze?
A telephone call! The distant drum
Of woe no longer beats through the days!

Right now the forces of joy and truth
Are mobilizing to bring you cheer!
The doorbell rings, and a smiling youth
Gives you the tidings you long to hear!

Never give up to the dark distress
That threatens to spoil this day for you!
Maybe the sun of your happiness
Just at this moment is breaking through!

Day follows day, and who knows what hour
Your Prayerful striving may turn out right,
The hopes you cherish burst into flower,
And the gloomy pathway leads up to light!

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

VITAMIN PLUS INSULIN

Many modern students of diabetes favor the opinion that over-eating and insufficient exercise are factors of the disease. Other factors may be concerned—heredity, obesity, perhaps worry and anxiety or the emotional strain of heavy business responsibilities—this last factor is questioned by so good an authority as Joslin.

The work from which I quote, by Prof. Elliott P. Joslin, is accepted as authoritative. What Dr. Joslin doesn't know about diabetes in children or adults is probably not to be found in any book. But what he doesn't know about vitamins and their relation to diabetes is considerable, I think. Prof. Joslin does mention vitamins in his monograph, devoting a whole page or more to an elementary review of A, B, C, D and E—apparently he had not heard of G away back in 1925. He appears to think diabetes patients need not bother their heads about vitamins, "because of the abundance of cream, butter, meal and green vegetables in the routine diet." Yet evidently the professor's mind was not entirely clear about it, for he adds that "Nearly all my children are given cod-liver oil daily and many take liver oil once a week."

Now cod liver oil is not exactly tempting to the normal child's appetite. It seems harsh to inflict it on the child with diabetes, in view of the many other restraints and requirements such a child must endure. Presumably Prof. Joslin's purpose is to insure an adequate ration of vitamin D for the child. After all, the few natural foods that contain any vitamin D (milk, cream, butter) do not contain enough for the needs of a growing infant or young child, and it is today universal practice to supplement every infant's diet with a daily ration of vitamin D in one form or another, fish liver oil or a concentrate made from fish liver oil or a preparation of synthetic vitamin D made by irradiating ergosterol with ultraviolet light. Vitamin D is vitamin D, unit for unit, regardless of its source. Why can't the diabetic child, then, take his vitamin D in the form of a tasteless few drops of irradiated ergosterol in neutral oil or in the form of a tablet or two of irradiated yeast?

Dr. Joslin cites a case reported by a colleague, in which the patient, on restricted diet and before insulin was used, suffered with double wrist-drop, double toe-drop, edema and neuritic pain in arms and legs. "Yet with control of the diabetes, she made a complete recovery in two months." A typical case of beri-beri or multiple neuritis, and deficiency of vitamin B, is the specific cause of that. The recovery was in all probability due to increased intake of foods that happened to contain vitamin B, when the insulin reduced the sugar in the urine and the patient was allowed to take more of such foods. Had that patient's restricted diet been supplemented regularly with a good ration of vitamin B, as in dried brewers yeast or wheat germ daily, she probably would not have developed the neuritis at all.

There is another reason, and a sound one, for including vitamin B in one form or another, in every diabetic's daily regimen. Both experimentally in the laboratory and actually in practice it has been found that a diabetic patient who requires a certain daily dose of insulin or protamine insulin to keep sugar-free, requires less insulin after he or she has received an optimal daily ration of vitamin B to supplement the regular or prescribed diet two or three weeks.

I venture to prophesy that in the next edition of Prof. Joslin's book vitamin B will receive a good deal more than the 52 lines of academic comment the present edition accords it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Food Obsession

I have chronic sinusitis. Have always believed milk a nearly perfect food, but have been told lately it is bad for me as it is mucous forming. (D. L.)

Answer—Milk, cheese, eggs, peas, beans, greens, are all good foods for one with chronic sinusitis, because they are rich in calcium. There is no basis for the notion that milk forms mucus.

Caesarian Section

My first child was born through Caesarian operation, because I was in a toxic condition. Will my next baby have to be born that way? (Mrs. C. S.)

Answer—Not necessarily. Proper prenatal care may prevent recurrence of the toxemia. (Copyright, 1937)

Your Birthday

"LIBRA"

If September 28 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are: From 12 a. m. until 1 p. m., from 2 to 4 p. m., and from 8 to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a. m., from 4 to 6 p. m. and from 10 p. m. until midnight.

Entertaining morbid thoughts this day will be demoralizing. False conceptions are liable to play havoc with one's peace of mind, so straight thinking is essential for your happiness. In speaking it will be wise to remember that any flowery forms of speech may destroy rather than inspire confidence in the sentiment it is expected to convey to the listener. The simpler the expression is, the greater will be the impression, made upon the consciousness of the average person this day. General conditions appear to be auspicious for any kind of negotiation involving money. Transactions concerning the soil ought to be particularly free of complications, for anything relating to the ground seems to be surrounded by favorable influences. Married, engaged and sentimental couples should seize every opportunity presented this day to display a spirit of consideration and loving cooperation.

If a woman and September 28 is your birthday, through some talent you possess you probably will be very popular and a leader in your set. Do not give in to moods. You can control your disposition, making it extremely agreeable or disagreeable, according to the frame of mind you allow yourself to be in. You have the ability to train your mental powers, and it is only by allowing them to get out of control that wrong reasoning can affect your temperament. Fortune seems bound to smile upon your undertakings, especially if they are connected with educational, missionary, literary or artistic work. It appears that matrimony is your best medium for happiness. The child born on September 28, generally in its springtime of life, advances with remarkable rapidity along intellectual lines of development. The outgrowth of association of ideas may lead to the accomplishment of some outstanding achievement.

If a man and September 28 is your natal day, you may be inclined to be very temperamental. Be careful that this characteristic does not interfere with your chances of becoming very popular. The probabilities are that as a lawyer, architect, chemist, artist, salesman, manufacturer, banker or writer you can win a reputation and make lots of money.

A Bystander

In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington — The neutrality act these days is in about the same status as the prohibition act in the years immediately before repeal.

Nearly everybody was for abolition of the saloon and its attendant evils, but many, including the heads of government, came to the conclusion that prohibition merely substituted the speakeasy for the saloon and developed a whole new set of "attendant evils."

Now nearly everybody is for staying out of war and for avoiding its attendant evils, but many, including apparently the heads of government, have concluded that the neutrality act won't keep us out of war and that, if applied, it would bring on a whole new set of "attendant evils."

Dead Letter

Before repeal you could stand in the offices of some federal and state enforcement agencies and hear the clinking of glasses in the "speaks" a few doors distant. Prohibition agents would sit around the office hoping their pay wouldn't be lopped off, and occasionally would dash off into the hills and knock over a still they had known about for many months but which had been "saved up" for a time when a raid was necessary to satisfy the Anti-Saloon league.

In Shanghai, agents of the department of state can't keep us out of war and that, if applied, it would bring on a whole new set of "attendant evils."

The neutrality act, which automatically goes into effect upon the outbreak of war, and imposes mandatory embargoes on war equipment, has been voided by this government for weeks by the simple process of refusing to recognize there is war.

Furthermore, Secretary of State Hull made it clear in his speech broadcast internationally for the national peace conference that so far as Japan and China are concerned, he expects the act to remain a dead letter. Evidently only some formidable circumstance like a declaration of war by one of the countries would impel him to ask the president to invoke the act.

His reason: It won't promote peace.

"Isolationist"

The neutrality act is an "isolationist" act, and, says Secretary Hull, "any nation which completely fails to show interest in and to give support for the existence of international order would lose its influence for peace." This country must promote peace by avoiding isolation, says

Hull, or war will spread so widely that even isolation won't be safe.

Just as the prohibitions knocked over an occasional still to comfort the dregs, the government now orders its own merchant vessels out of China and issues an occasional "trade at your own risk" warning to mollify the isolationists.

Leader of Crow Indians

Seeks to Improve Tribe

Crow Agency, Mont., (AP)—Soft-spoken Bob Yellowtail, leader of the once powerful Crow Indians, is striving to make his hard-working tribesmen economically independent.

Yellowtail, a college graduate, has devised a "rehabilitation program" which includes building up of the tribe's buffalo and other herds, stock raising and diversified crops.

He also hopes to restore to the Crows the proficiency in horsemanship for which they became famous throughout the West. With a view to making the Crows "the best mounted tribe in the world," he has imported stallions and brood mares, and gathered the best technical information.

Yellowtail is the first Indian to become superintendent of a reservation.

Forensic Coaches End Competition In Valley Schools

Debate Will Not be Affected Under New Fox Conference Ruling

Competition in all forensic events except debate was abolished by coaches at a Fox River Valley Forensic conference meeting held at Appleton High school Saturday, according to H. H. Helble, president.

In the future, forensic meetings will be known as recitals instead of contests and judging for place winners will be eliminated. Included on the list of events to come under the new ruling will be oratory, declamation and extemporaneous speech and officials are considering the addition of one-act plays to the list.

Mr. Helble said that the reason for the change is "to build a program of entertainment for the enjoyment of the audience." Representatives of the various schools will be selected by contests held in each school as in the past. It will not be necessary to pick the best performer in local contests but efforts will be made to present a balanced program at the conference recital.

Set Recital Dates

Dates for this year's recitals were set by principals and coaches at Saturday's meeting. The declamation recital will be held at Manitowish Dec. 8; oratory recital at East Green Bay High school on April 6, and the extemporaneous speech recital at Oshkosh High school on May 11.

The Dame declamation contest, the Heiss oratory contest and the Bolton-Roth extemporaneous speech contest will be held at Appleton High school, forensic participants beginning in December as in other years.

About 30 principals and forensic coaches from Appleton, Manitowish, East and West Green Bay, Marinette, Oshkosh, Sheboygan and Fond du Lac attended the conference.

Open Damage Case In Circuit Court

Two Actions Being Heard By Jury Before Edgar V. Werner

Taking testimony in a case involving two actions for damages growing out of a highway accident began this morning in circuit court before Judge Edgar V. Werner.

Claire Leahy, town of Farmington, seeks damages of $5,000 from Luther Volz, Farmers Mutual Insurance company and Ervin Carew, Waupaca, in one action, and Volz asks damages of $1,000 from Ervin Carew, and the Farmers Mutual Insurance company in the other.

The suits are a result of an accident on Highway 41 about a mile southeast of New London on Sept. 20, 1936. Leahy was riding in a car being driven southeast on the highway by Carew when it was involved in a crash with a machine driven by Volz, who was going in the same direction.

Jurors selected this morning to hear the case are A. H. Davis, 526 N. Sampson street; Mrs. Althea K. N. Sampson, 615 N. Bateman street; John Duda, route 3, Seymour; Barney Feistel, route 4, Seymour; Frank J. Hilgenberg, 232 Duane street; Kaukauna; Edward F. Hoffman, 823 W. Commercial street; Emil Kleist, Seymour; Chester Lathrop, Hortonville; Mrs. Clara Lenz, Little Chute; Glen Wickesberg, route 1, Seymour; William F. Wolf, 526 N. Meade street; and Fred Spaude, route 4, Seymour.

Cloudy, Warmer Weather Forecast

Weekend Introduces Fall Temperatures; 36 Lowest Here

Cloudy weather accompanied by rising temperatures is the weatherman's prediction for tomorrow in Appleton and vicinity, with showers forecast for the northwestern portion of the state.

After a week marked by wet weather followed by a slight rain, the weather took on its autumn appearance over the weekend. The temperature slid down on Saturday night and early Sunday morning reached its weekend's low, 36 degrees.

For the 24-hour period preceding 9 o'clock this morning, the highest temperature was 58 and the lowest, at 4 o'clock this morning, 38, according to records at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. At 1 o'clock today the thermometer registered 61 degrees.

Phoenix, Ariz., sweltering under 102 degrees and Wausau, where the temperature fell to 32 degrees, were the warmest and coldest cities in the nation yesterday.

Probes Death of Badger Farmer

Coroner Doubts Victim Killed by Candy Eaten Shortly Before He Died

Stevens Point—(P)—Coroner Victor S. Prais said today he had sent to state toxicologists at Madison for examination the internal organs of Joseph Olbrantz, 48, Lincolnwood farmer who died Saturday night.

Prais said Olbrantz became fatally ill after eating candy from a box he found in his car after a shopping trip. The farmer's wife and son, Raymond, also became ill but recovered soon after. Prais said, A sample of the candy also was sent to Madison for examination.

The coroner declared he was inclined to believe the candy had been placed in the car by mistake, that it contained no poison, and that Olbrantz probably had died of heart disease.

His questioning of the farmer's wife and son, Prais added, led him to believe the symptoms they had first exhibited were those of extreme nervous emotion and nausea at seeing Olbrantz stricken seriously ill.

Dr. Erich Wisol, who performed the post-mortem, said death occurred in convulsions which may have been due to poisoning.

Number of CCC Camps To be Cut in State

After Oct. 1, only five CCC camps will be operating in Wisconsin state parks, C. L. Harrington, superintendent of forests and parks in the state, said today in a communication to the Outagamie county certification bureau. Two camps were discontinued in July and two more are to go out of operation on Oct. 1 as a result of federal reduction in CCC quotas, Harrington said. Recent federal regulations have changed the CCC from a strictly relief activity to a training and employment program.

The park camps which will remain after Oct. 1, if the enrollment is sufficient to maintain them are: Patterson Park camp in Douglas county; Interstate Park camp in Polk county; Rib Mountain park in Marathon county; Devils Lake Park camp in Sauk county and the camp in the University arboretum, Dane county.

Births

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stingle, Black Creek, Thursday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence West, 1524 W. Lawrence street, Saturday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Collins, 117 E. Fourth street, Kaukauna, Saturday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lucas, Sherwood, Sunday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Word has been received of the birth of a son on Sept. 18 to Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Walling, Baraboo. Mrs. Walling is the former Miss Evelyn Briese, daughter of Mrs. Anna Briese, 720 E. Eldorado street.

Sentence Check Forger To One Year at Waupun

Alex Sharpley, alias Nathaniel Sharpley, Milwaukee, arrested by Appleton police on a charge of forging and cashing two checks, pleaded guilty to the information in municipal court this morning and was sentenced by Judge Thomas H. Ryan to serve one year in state prison at Waupun. Sharpley cashed two forged checks, one for $9.70 and the other for $14.50, at a local tavern, police said. He waived preliminary hearing in municipal court Saturday.

Kaukauna Youth Must Serve 1 to 2-Year Term

Probation of Richard Rupert, 22, Kaukauna, was ordered revoked today by the state board of control and the youth must serve out a sentence from one to two years in the state reformatory at Green Bay. Rupert was arrested and sentenced for operating a car without the owner's consent on Feb. 20 and then put on probation. He was arrested again on a similar charge on Sept. 11.

LaFollette Has No Luck but Two Fellow Governors Get Two Muskellunge Apiece

Madison—(P)—Snubbed by the muskies, and with a rebellious legislature on his hands, Governor LaFollette returned to work today after playing the role of host to the governors of Illinois and Iowa on a weekend fishing expedition in northern Wisconsin.

Nearly everyone in the angling party caught a muskellunge except the Wisconsin executive. Governor Horner of Illinois and Governor Krascchel of Iowa each landed two good-sized ones which they shipped back home. Governor LaFollette had only one strike in two days and that one got away.

Top honors went to Governor Krascchel, who was so enthused he said he plans to return with Mrs. Krascchel and a few guests for another fishing trip within three weeks. The Iowa governor landed a fish 40 inches and another 39 inches long. His secretary, Robert Burlingame, in the same boat, also caught one.

Governor Horner, a fisherman well acquainted with the lakes in the region of Trout lake forestry headquarters, where the governors were put up by the state conservation department, had two catches of 31 and 36 inch muskies.

Governor Horner left last night by train for Chicago and Governor Krascchel motored to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he had an appointment today.

Governor LaFollette said: "It was a grand party. I'm glad they had fun. I had no luck—and now I have to go back to work."

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau) Trout Lake, Vilas County—It was a cozy, intimate little party, consisting of Governor LaFollette, the heads of two of Wisconsin's sister states, Nelson K. Krascchel of Iowa and Henry Horner of Illinois, abetted by several secretaries apiece, a couple of adjutant generals, too many guides to count, and 17 newspaper men whose editors thought they were working.

The master of ceremonies never got a definite idea of the number camera men on the premises. Guesses ranged from four to a dozen.

The weekend provided everything except rest, which used to be what vacations were for. The wide open spaces in this northland section forced the long automobile rides from lake to lake across whole counties so that the cream of the muskie population could be made available to the distinguished party.

Up here where the natives are snowed in for four or five months every winter, and where snowshoes are a necessary part of locomotion, from November to April, the governors found that the wind just now is biting almost as much as the fish. Facetious Governor Horner, in fact, was reported as saying that he planned to return for another fishing weekend at this time next winter.

Press Agents Pleased That the governor's lines did inveigle some muskies was a source of unbounded satisfaction to the official press agents. State publicity men who hatched the "battle of the muskies stunt" as a sequel to the "battle of the cornstalks" at Des Moines last month, beamed as they contemplated the thousands of feet of moving picture, newspaper and magazine space their brainchild produced.

According to J. H. Alexander, promoter No. 1, the fishing contest will become an annual event, and next year will include the governor.

Internal Revenue Collections on Increase in State

40 Per Cent Higher in Wisconsin During Fiscal Year of 1937

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau Washington — Wisconsin paid Uncle Sam 40 per cent more in internal revenue taxes during the fiscal year 1937 than the 1936 fiscal year, the bureau of internal revenue reported today.

Total internal revenue collections in Wisconsin during the year ended June 30 were $81,239,424.41 while in 1936 they totalled $58,056,703.36. Fifteen other states paid more taxes.

Wisconsin representing 2.26 per cent of the total population of the country paid only 1.74 per cent of the total amount of taxes collected. The budge state paid 1.30 per cent of the total income tax, 2.18 per cent of the total collections from miscellaneous taxes, and 1.84 per cent of the total pay roll (social security) tax collections.

Five states: New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Michigan paid over 50 per cent of the total internal revenue collections.

Wisconsin nearly doubled the amount of individual income taxes paid over the year's period. Total individual income tax collections in the state for the fiscal year 1937 were $12,375,588.77, an increase of 98 per cent over total 1936 collection of $6,242,591.94. The state was sixteenth in the country in 1937 in the amount of individual income tax collections while in 1936 it ranked twenty-first.

Corporation Tax Up Wisconsin made a greater percentage gain than any other state in amount of corporation income tax collections in 1937 compared with 1936. Total collections in 1937 were $15,206,222.55, an increase of 77 per cent over the $8,597,088.38 corporation income taxes collected in 1936.

A total of $30,464,166.94 was collected in 1937 in taxes on fermented malt liquors in the state. New York and Pennsylvania were the only two states paying larger taxes on malt beverages. In the country as a whole, $281,564,099.63 was collected from fermented malt liquor taxes.

The tax on brewers, wort in Wisconsin brought $3,749.14. Michigan is the only state that paid more. The collection from taxes on malt liquor and syrup was $5,533,570. New York and Illinois were the only two states paying more on this tax.

Wisconsin ranked twelfth in the country in the amount paid in 1937 in penalties for violations of the liquor laws. The total amount collected was $31,700.10. California paid the most.

$22 On Oleomargarine Only $22 was collected in Wisconsin in taxes on oleomargarine. The District of Columbia paid the largest tax on oleo and Ohio and Indiana came next. In the country as a whole $2,348,415.24 was collected in taxes on oleomargarine.

The entire internal revenue collections in the country for the fiscal year 1937 amounted to $4,653,195,312.8, an increase of 32 per cent over the 1936 total of $3,520,208,381.00. Of this total for 1937, $2,148,663,875.90 was from income taxes, $2,238,786,131.45 was from miscellaneous taxes and $265,745,307.84 was in pay roll taxes.

In his report, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering says: "The increase of $1,133,000,000 in total collections reflects continued improvement in business, changed provisions and higher rates of tax applicable with respect to individual and corporation income and estates, and new levies upon them."

Megrew Talks and Trio Entertains at Exhibit

Alden F. Megrew, Lawrence college art instructor, spoke on art appreciation and a college string trio entertained at the art exhibit in the Alexander gymnasium last night.

The exhibit, containing 50 oil paintings, was opened last Wednesday as a highlight of the ninety-first matriculation week at the college and will continue for another week. It was loaned the college by the Art Institute of Chicago.

Charles Henry Worcester, vice president of the institute, was awarded an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree by President Thomas N. Barrows of Lawrence college in ceremonies last week.

In a collision with a parked car owned by Herman Selig, 421 E. South River street.

Six persons were killed and several seriously injured in automobile accidents on Wisconsin and upper Michigan highways over the weekend, Associated Press reports indicated. The dead:

Bernard Peshchal, 20, Durand. Alice Hector, 22, Kenosha. Robert J. Pechacek, 18, Racine. Rachel Best, 2, Virroqua. Harvey Winn, 16, Ironwood, Mich.

John Koski, North Bessemer, Mich.

Miss Hector was killed early Sunday when an automobile in which she was riding failed to negotiate a curve near the Kenosha municipal airport. Police held Richard Covelli, 22, Kenosha, driver of the car for questioning.

Pechacek, injured in an automobile-motorcycle collision at Kenosha, died Sunday when surgeons amputated his legs. His three motorcycle companions, Jacob Jacobson, 19; Ralph Parker, 19, and Robert Rhodes, 20, all of Racine, were injured in the pileup of motorcycles that ensued when one of the group struck a car.

Child Is Killed Rachel Best was killed Sunday when she darted in front of an automobile driven by the Rev. O. M. Kleven, Virroqua. The child was walking with four companions along the roadway near her home. A coroner's jury held the accident unavoidable.

Winn lost his life early Sunday when a truck carrying members of the Ironwood High school football team rolled over several times on U. S. Highway No. 2 near Ironwood. Ruth Collins, of Wakefield, one of the passengers, suffered a fractured spine. Two others received minor hurts. Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred when the driver of the truck attempted to pass another car.

Koski was killed near Ironwood early Sunday when his automobile collided with a truck and overturned. His wife received a severe head gash but a son, Arvo, was uninjured. Charles Brace, of Little Girls' Point, driver of the truck, was injured. He is being held for questioning.

Peshchal died today from internal injuries suffered yesterday when an automobile driven by Frank Schuse, Jr., blew out a rear tire, hit loose gravel on the shoulder, and rolled over four times going down an eight-foot embankment at the Durand city limits. Peshchal and Emma Prissel were thrown 30 feet. The girl also was seriously injured, but others in the car were unhurt.

Clarence Johnson, 24, of Menominee, Mich., was still unconscious today at the Oconto, Wis., hospital from a probable skull fracture suffered in an auto accident on U. S. Highway 41 near Oconto last night. The car turned over four times. Five other occupants of the machine were injured.

Mrs. Wallace Bucholtz, Honey Creek, suffered critical internal injuries when her husband's automobile collided with another near the Racine-Waukesha county line.

Neenah Kiwanis Club Considers Purchase of 'Lung'

Equipment Would be Given to Theda Clark Hospital

Neenah—The Neenah Kiwanis club is presently considering the purchase of an "iron lung," such as is currently being used in the treatment of a great many cases of infantile paralysis, and which if purchased will be donated to the Theda Clark hospital, it was announced today by A. C. Haselow, club president.

In a notification sent out to all members of the club and Neenah-Menasha manufacturers today the president said, "This has been carefully discussed with several local doctors, and they are very enthusiastic over the possibility of having this type of equipment at their disposal."

The use of the artificial respirator, it was said, is not confined to infantile paralysis, but has been successfully used in saving lives in cases of carbon monoxide poisoning, tetanus, gas poisoning, electric shock, smoke suffocation, cerebral hemorrhage, and heat stroke.

Mr. Haselow added in his announcement, "We are fully aware that this equipment would be used for emergencies only, but if it were responsible for saving but one life it would certainly justify that investment."

Would Contribute

"Our club does not have sufficient funds to pay for this equipment, which will cost about $1,800, but it is ready to make a substantial contribution and assume the responsibility of raising the necessary funds."

"Several of the large manufacturers have expressed a willingness to make contributions, and I would appreciate an expression from the manufacturers before committing ourselves definitely to this program of whether their company would be willing to help to defray the cost of such equipment, and what the amount would be."

The proposed purchase of the "iron lung" with the aid of Twin City industries is another of the services currently being sponsored by the Kiwanians.

The club is presently sponsoring a social conference for the care of handicapped children which will be held Saturday afternoon, Oct. 23, at the Valley Inn, Neenah. All social workers in this vicinity are expected to attend and several well-known leaders in the field will talk at the meeting.

Pineroos Defeat Oshkosh Bowlers

All Members of Menasha Team Get Series Counts of Over 500

Menasha—The Hendy Pineroos rolled some nice scores Saturday night as they opened their season with a 200 pin victory over the pin boys from St. Mary at Oshkosh. All of the Menasha boys topped 500 in their series, Lawrence Malouf collecting a 590 total. High game honors went to W. Dorschner of the St. Mary team with a 233.

The Menasha bowlers and their scores were F. Spanz, 213, 193 and 158 for 564; G. Mason, 203, 178 and 171 for 552; S. Kolgen, 180, 183, 180 for 543; L. Malouf, 195, 181 and 214 for 590, and H. Butelciski, 152, 171 and 189 for 512.

The game scores were 943, 906 and 912 for a 2,761 total for the Pineroos to 886, 748 and 907 for a total of 2,541 for the St. Mary pin boys. A return match will be played on the Hendy alleys next Saturday night.

REMODEL BUILDING

Neenah—The Nash Sales Service, 117 Canal St., is remodeling the building alongside their present location, according to H. C. Christoph, proprietor. Showrooms and offices will be installed in the building.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or may be telephoned. This number also may be called before 7 o'clock in the evening for delivery of papers missed by carriers in Neenah or Menasha.

Use Police Radio to Locate Truck Driver; It Takes One Minute

Neenah—When all apparent methods of communications with one of their truck drivers enroute from Beloit to Neenah appeared futile officials of the Kimberly-Clark corporation, Neenah, were puzzled last week on how to get a message to the driver.

But only for a short time, for somebody hit upon a solution. Through the process of elimination the officials came to the conclusion that mail, telephone, telegraph, wireless, radio or even a company's special messenger was either impossible to reach the driver or in case of the latter would not get to him in time.

The officials met this problem facing them Thursday afternoon by calling WAKE, the police radio station at Oshkosh.

A call to the sheriff's department at Oshkosh gave Radio Operator Marshall Searle the request for the driver to call his office.

Louis Lehrer, Oshkosh motorcycle policeman, was parked at the corner of Jackson drive and Murock street when the message was broadcast. Messages are repeated three times, but the operator got through it twice when Officer Lehrer observed the driver stopping for a traffic signal. He delivered the message and in one minute the call was canceled.

Jobless Receive $522 During June 110 Unemployed Persons in Twin Cities Get Benefits

Neenah—Unemployed in the Twin Cities received compensation totaling $522.25 during the month of June, according to Lawrence Burley, examiner for the unemployment compensation department of the Neenah-Menasha district.

There were 110 unemployed persons in the Twin Cities who received these benefits, 56 checks being issued to Neenah persons for a total of $241.75, and 54 in Menasha for a total of $280.50.

Unemployed in the county received a total of $2,254.55, according to the statistics which were released today. In Oshkosh there were 358 checks totaling $1,705 issued, and six other checks were issued in the various parts of the county, totaling $237.70.

The Twin Cities received nearly one-third of the unemployment compensation benefits, Burley said, and the county gets 1.8 per cent of the state total, there having been 22,563 checks issued in the state for $123,990.25.

Receive 80 Entries for Horse Show at Neenah

Neenah—Eighty horses have already been entered in the horse show to be held at the Jack Kimbly stables Sunday, Oct. 3, it was announced today. The Twin City Emergency society is sponsoring the show.

Night School to Offer Variety of Commercial Work

Elementary and Specialized Training Will be Given, Director Says

Neenah—Bookkeeping and accounting which will be offered in the Neenah Vocational school evening classes will include a large variety of study for both elementary and specialized training, according to Carl Christensen, director. The evening school will start Monday, Oct. 4, at the Neenah High school.

For those who have had no previous training in accounting, an elementary course will be taught in general principles and procedures, and a large variety of special kinds of bookkeeping in the form of project material will be available for those who wish to study bookkeeping as applied to specific kinds of business. Projects will be available for single proprietorships, partnerships and corporations.

One is a household project which deals with up to date methods in domestic accounting, financing of domestic property and filing and recording of family income tax records.

A retail store project built up around the modern cash register is another project to be offered.

For those who are seeking training in corporate accounting a project concerning small wholesale corporation is available, which provides training in accounting for the ordinary wholesale company including the issuance, recording, and transfer of stock certificates.

Other projects will be offered for those who have other special needs with instructions largely on an individual basis, the student being permitted to progress as rapidly as he is able.

Test Equipment At Sewage Plant

Sewers at Bergstrom Paper Company are Connected Today

Menasha—Tests of equipment at the new Twin Cities sewage disposal plant are being continued under the charge of Jesse M. Holderby, engineer in charge of the plant. Incinerators have been tested and the pumps have also been approved.

The sewage disposal load is increasing steadily as more and more sanitary sewer installations and connections are being made. The sewers at the Bergstrom Paper Company were connected today. Sewer installations are being widely carried on in both Neenah and Menasha.

Work at the building and grounds has been practically completed. The crushed rock road around the plant has been installed and the ground graded. Landscaping and seeding of grass must be completed. The building itself is practically complete.

KRUEGER'S NEENAH

SEVENTY-ONE HAPPY YEARS

Heartl Stars but Neenah Loses to Messmer, 12 to 6

Ganetz Leads Milwaukee Eleven to Victory Over Red Rockets

NEENAH—Frank Heartl, Neenah High school's triple threat who can heave the ball as well as he can punt it and is as shifty as a rabbit, rocketed to grid stardom in this city Saturday afternoon, despite the fact that his eleven sustained its first defeat, with Messmer High school of Milwaukee enjoying a 12 to 6 victory.

The rangy left halfback paced the Red Rockets as they shoved the Messmer eleven all over the gridiron during the first half, but Neenah's forward wall wavered twice during the second half and each time Messmer scored.

Heartl threw most of the Redmen's passes, did all of the punting and carried the ball the majority of times, gaining the most ground.

Messmer Proves Tough

But the Messmer eleven also had a man as shifty as Heartl, and he continued to slash at the Neenah line until it weakened, and when Lefty Halfback Ganetz was past the line of scrimmage, he was tough to anchor.

Neenah consistently threatened the Messmer goal line, carrying on drive after drive, but the Red Rockets failed to sustain their runs and were forced to relinquish the ball deep in enemy territory several times. On the other hand Messmer failed to cross midfield until the closing minutes of the first half, and in the second half they made only three trips into Neenah's portion of the white striped field but scored on two of them.

Heartl smashed to Neenah's only touchdown about a minute after the second quarter started. Edsl Birdsal started the touchdown drive when he gained 12 yards on a wide left end sweep, starting from the Neenah 40-yard line. Heartl skirted the other flank for seven yards and then crashed off tackle for eight more yards. Birdsal picked up a yard at center.

The fleet left halfback then staged an 18-yard jaunt via the left end, trailing behind good interference.

Heartl Scores

He moved over five more yards of turf on the next play and the first quarter concluded. Fullback Keaster tried the center of the line and gained the 4-yard line, and Heartl carried it the rest of the distance. Quarterback Johnson's drop-kick went wide.

After narrowly missing a touchdown as the first half ended, Messmer returned a revived team and gave some support to the speedy Ganetz. Talking the ball on Neenah's 36, Ganetz galloped 12 yards and on the next play moved to the 29-yard line. He plunged through center to the 25 and then raced to the 9-yard line. On the next play he crashed for the touchdown. Ganetz placed kicked was blocked.

Milwaukee Tallies Again

The Milwaukee delegation started its final touchdown drive as the third quarter ended. Neenah lost the third quarter. Quarterback Johnson gambled and sent Heartl around right end and galloped about 15 yards to the 25-yard line, one foot short of a first down.

Ganetz stepped nine yards through center, and Fullback Leonard made it a first down. Right Halfback Barnett traveled to the 40-yard line, and then Ganetz staged a 20-yard run to Neenah's 40. Barnett barged through a wide hole in the Neenah line and raced across a clear field for the second touchdown. Ganetz place kick failed.

With several minutes left to play the Red Rockets rolled over the Milwaukee gridders, their final sustained drive starting from their own 20-yard line after the ball had been kicked over the goal line. Neenah barged its way to Messmer's 20 and a first down when the game ended.

Dodge Out of Game

Neenah also felt the loss of Co-captain Dale Dodge, a regular left tackle, who sustained a knee injury a few hours before the game. He suffered a deep cut on his right knee in a fall. Anderson, who was given Dodge's assignment, handled himself well.

The lineup:

Neenah	Messmer
Schmidt	LE	Miller
Anderson	LT	Gradian
Rucci	LG	Kucharski
Borenz	C	Seeman
Vanderwalker	RG	Blaseyk
Boekel	RT	Cateaux

'Social Hygiene' Topic at Meeting Of Seymour Group

Woman's Club Gathers at Van Vuren Cottage On Loon Lake

Seymour—Miss Marie Klein, Outagamie county nurse, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Seymour Woman's club on Friday afternoon. She spoke on "Social Hygiene," emphasizing the fact that the main cause of erring young people was due to failure of the parents to give them the proper training in social hygiene. The meeting was held on Loon lake at the cottage of Mrs. C. Van Vuren.

Thirty-three members and guests were present. A short business meeting followed the talk at which time four new members were proposed for membership. These with three proposed at a previous meeting will be voted on at the next meeting to be held Oct. 8. It was decided that the club would not send delegates to the state convention this year. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Beck with Mrs. Eugene Doering Very of Green Bay as the guest speaker. Her subject will be "Simple Home Decorating."

Reduce Working Hours At Plywood Factory

New London—A decrease in hours was announced to employees of the American Plywood corporation Saturday, effective this week. According to posted bulletins the day crew will work 8 instead of 9 hours and the night crew 8 1/2 instead of 11 hours. Shifts will change at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Bomb Found in Home of French Military Leader

Paris—An unexploded bomb was found today in the home of General Andre Pretelat, member of France's superior war council. Authorities, who are inquiring into several other recent terrorist acts, opened an investigation.

Waupaca County Nurse Outlines Her School Inspection Program

Waupaca—Office hours to date of the County Nurse Estelle Jung, have been from 8:30 to 9:30 each morning and all Saturday forenoon. Hereafter because of the demands for extra school work, there will be no office hours on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday the hours will remain unchanged.

Miss Jung will begin school inspection in the extreme northern part of the county at once. She expects to work south, and it is probable that she will be unable to cover more than the northern half of the county for regular inspection. However, the schools that will not be contacted this year, will have that service next.

Although schools may not have the inspection, they may call upon the county nurse for any service they may need, she declared.

In the course of the first half year of county public health service, Miss Jung announced, between 850 and 400 infants and preschool children have been examined by physicians at organized health centers. Mothers of many of these children have reported back that they have obtained real benefit, not only from information given at the centers, but from the consultations which followed with family physicians in specific instances where such visits were recommended.

This phase of public health work has been concentrated upon during the summer due to the fact that the child's health can more easily be rebuilt during the summer and because it is much more easy for mothers to bring their children to the centers during warm weather. Regardless of these facts, the information received on the care of the child has included that for winter when artificial sunshine must replace that of summer.

New London Golf Team Wins Match

Defeats Kaukauna Squad, 23 to 8, on Springvale Course

New London—New London golfers again defeated the Kaukauna clubbers 23 to 8 in a return tournament at Springvale course here yesterday afternoon. About 14 visiting golfers were entrained, but the best players of the Brewer city were absent.

Edward Wendlandt took low score for the 18 holes with a 79 tally while J. A. Andrejaski was low for Kaukauna with 83.

The match marked the last of tournament activities planned at the Springvale course this year.

John Burns Funeral Held at New London

New London—Funeral services for John J. Burns, independent lumber broker of this city who died suddenly of a paralytic stroke at Oshkosh Friday night, were held this morning at 9 o'clock at the Most Precious Blood Catholic church. The Rev. Paul E. Herb read the requiem mass.

Bearers were Alden Smith of Shiocton, Rudd Smith, Dr. George W. Polzin, Dr. J. W. Monsted, F. E. Patchen and Francis Werner. The Rotary club attended the services in a body. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

The New London Study club, of which Mrs. Burns was member, postponed its initial meeting scheduled at Mrs. F. J. Pfeiffer's home this afternoon.

Lincoln School Grade Team Wins Grid Game

New London—A football game between seventh and eighth grade boys of Lincoln school and boys of the same grades in the parochial schools was won by the Lincoln eleven, 13 to 7, in a playground tilt at the Washington High school grounds Saturday morning.

R. M. Shortell, city recreational director and physical education instructor, assembled and directed the teams. Some younger boys played with the junior highs. More games will be held later.

Bob Scoring did all the scoring for the Lincoln gridders, making two touchdowns and driving off tackle for the one extra point. Jim Bodeh made the touchdown for the parochials and made good on a place kick.

New London Horseshoe Team Loses at Waupaca

New London—Five New London boys traveled to Waupaca to take part in a WPA horseshoe match under lighted courses there Friday night and returned the losers. They lost 13 out of 24 games and earned 750 points to 1,157 for the Waupaca team.

Ervin Dorschner won the most games for the local boys with five victories. Others playing were Felix Arns, Maria, S. Gomers, Scott, Hazenberg and Pat Ostermeier. Opposing Waupaca boys were Hunter, Potter, Doerfler, S. S. and Zimmerman.

Need Extreme Care With Words Applied to Child

BY ANGELO PATRI

Word slinging is an unpleasant term for what I have in mind, but I can find no other that has the same meaning. We of this day and generation have read in many fields, particularly in the field of psychology and its allied branches. We have discovered new terms, new words in this reading and in the discussions of it, and there are some—and they ought to know better—who sling those words about with an air of nonchalance scarcely justified by their meaning. Perhaps some of us are not truly aware of their meaning.

Children, and at times their parents, have been distressed by this habit. Adolescent children have been the hardest hit among the victims, perhaps because the new psychology was deeply interested in adolescence and its problems. The doctors and scholars who blazed the new trails did not intend to hurt the young people in whose service they toiled, nor did they do so. It was left for the well-intentioned helpers to do that by tossing about the terms they scarcely understood.

A weeping mother called to see the head of a big school. "I'm so worried about Robert. What can I do for him? Where shall I take him? Tell me something to do, send me to some place or to someone who can help him."

Robert was a fourteen-year-old boy who had given his teacher a great deal of trouble by his unfortunate behavior. He played hooky occasionally; he cut classes once in a while; he told tall stories; he neglected his lessons. Like many other adolescent boys in the throes of growth, the teacher had asked a social service worker to call on the family concerning the boy and in the course of the visit had said that Robert was suffering from mental instability.

"Mental instability?" said the bright young aunt. "Why all that means is that he is crazy. It's just their polite way of saying he is insane. You'd better get busy and do something about him right away."

That is what I mean. The poor boy was about driven out of his mind by the anxiety uttered and clearly expressed in behavior by his family. The mother was made ill, the father was thoroughly upset, the school was put in a poor light, all because a big word had been tossed like a thistle down on somebody's easy breath.

Words can do a great deal of damage. People who have to deal with children should be extremely careful about the terms they apply to them. Even when they understand them wholly the children do not, and uncertainty breeds fear; and that sort of fear is about the worst possible force to bring to life in the mind of a child.

Don't ever hint, much less say, that a child is crazy. Be more than careful about using any such term to an adolescent child. Never tell him he needs to see the psychiatrist. Don't tell him that he is mentally unstable, that he is neurotic. In short, leave the diagnosis of his case to the experts, in whose hands it belongs if there is a "case." And don't think that an adolescent child, who is a family nuisance for the time being, is a case for the psychiatrist. Usually all he needs is time out for growth and a lot of letting alone.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

The Story of Glass

I—LONG AGO

A glass fish is one of the relics of ancient Egypt. It was made 3,500 years ago, or more. The fish is hollow, has an open mouth, and is believed to have been used as a bottle.

used cakes of soda, and some of the soda dropped on the sand of the shore. At the end of the meal, one of the sailors happened to look at the ground where the fire had been. There he saw something shiny. He picked it up—it was a piece of the first glass.

That story no doubt was made up to explain something the Romans did not know about. More likely, the first glass was made in Egypt.

However it was made, the first glass surely contained sand. That is the chief thing used in making glass.

Lime is found as an "impure" part of sands around the Nile valley. Since lime is important in making glass, the impure sand helps explain why glass was made there in early times.

The third important thing for glass-making is soda—just plain soda of the kind used for baking. Soda of this kind was known to the people of ancient times.

Glass jars, vases and so on were made by the olden Greeks and Romans. They used coloring matter to stain the glass. Clear, transparent glass does not seem to have been made until about the year 230.

Slam Defense Flops When Partner Makes Bad Return

BY ELY CULBERTSON

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: This letter is, frankly speaking, nothing but a bid for sympathy. You always are so kind in shedding literary tears for bridge players with that horrible affliction, 'partner trouble,' that I confidently expect you to flood your column on this occasion.

"Here is a hand that came up last night in an inter-club team-of-four match, in which every one's life blood was at stake.

The bidding:

South West North East

1 spades Pass 2 hearts Pass

2 spades Pass 4 diamonds Pass

4 spades Pass 6 spades Pass

I was West. I don't know whether or not North intended that four diamond jump as an asking bid. Apparently not, since he still jumped to a slam in spades even though his partner signed off.

"After a long huddle, I decided that a club opening had little to recommend it. It might stop seven if partner had the ace, but it was not very constructive toward stopping six. So, with pretty much of a hope less feeling, I picked out the diamond three. A glance at all the hands will show you what a killing opening this should have

Dark Locks Need Sheen For Beauty

BY ELSIE PIERCE

FROM all sides we hear that the blonde is the darling of fashion once more. But, brunettes will not be outdone... not if we know our women and the competitive urge for gentlemen's preferences.

It is true that golden glints warm the heart as much as the sun itself. But the brunette in her deep, dark way, can be just as dazzling.

Compete by Contrast

Let the very contrast be your weapon of competition. Keep your hair as sleek and dark and highly polished as possible.

This means plenty of brushing for dark hair, even more than light, needs sheen for beauty. Brushing cleanses the scalp, stimulates circulation, polish every hair. To be of maximum value brushing must be done properly, and with a clean, clean brush.

This also means proper shampooing to remove every bit of surface dust, grime, dirt for a coating of dust makes dark hair look drab and grayish, detracting from brunettes beauty.

By the same token dandruff destroys dark-haired loveliness. Brushing and shampooing will help and a special tonic or oil treatments or pomade usually puts an end to an ordinary case of dandruff. The brunettes does not have to worry about oil treatments darkening the color of the hair, as is the case with her fair-haired cousin, nor about certain hair tonics or sulphur ointments or tar shampoos. It's darkness and sheen that characterize the beauty of the brunettes.

Rinse

For the finishing touch there are rinses for the brunettes. Just as there are rinses for the blonde. For the brunettes with black hair there's a blueing rinse to make the hair almost jet black, or blue black—dazzling indeed. For the dark brown head with reddish lights there's the camomile rinse to emphasize the titian tones in a dark sea. There are any number of ready-prepared vegetable rinses, harmless ones too, that add gloss and sheen and are by no means of a dye nature, because they come off in the next shampoo.

My bulletin on Hair Care Should be interesting to blonde and brunettes alike. Send self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope if you wish them. Address Miss Pierce in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

FLAME TRAIL

Chapter 53
Confession

WHEN Zeke Farley and his companions rounded a curve and came to the designated place, they stopped short with surprise at the sight of the extraordinary group waiting to receive them. Stepping in front of the girls, Ted told his story.

"I brought Josh Hastings along in the hopes he'd confess," he ended. "But I reckon I can convince a jury without him."

A groan from Josh Hastings brought all eyes to him, as a convulsive shudder shook his frame, and tiny flecks of foam appeared at his lips.

"He's had another stroke!" Kay exclaimed. "Quick! Get him off!"

In a thrice they had lifted him to the ground. Kay took sudden command of the situation, and motioned them all a few paces away as Josh Hastings' eyes opened. She knelt beside him.

Just In Time

"You're going to die, Josh Hastings," she declared solemnly, her eyes holding him with hypnotic intensity. "and Ruth will be left all alone. If you will tell the truth about Scrap Johnson's death, I swear that I'll take care of her."

Josh Hastings' eyes wandered from Kay to Zeke Farley and Tom Runyon behind her, then to Ted. A sullen triumph gleamed through their glazed terror.

"I won't talk!" he declared, with sudden vindictive strength.

"Then Ruth must be alone in the world and fend for herself!" Kay's voice was inexorable and gave no quarter.

"Damm you! Have it your own way, then!" His eyes clouded as a convulsive tremor shook him. Kay beckoned Zeke Farley closer. "Go on!"

"I killed Scrap Johnson, because he pulled a dirty trick on me!" Josh Hastings gasped out his confession. "And I framed Gaynor because I hate him, and I intended to have him proved a murderer to you. And what's more, I burned your ranch house, because..." His face contracted in a horrible grimace, and he fell back.

Zeke Farley sprang to him, and put a hand on his heart. After a moment of breathless silence, he turned to Kay.

"You were just in time," he announced. "He's dead."

With an inarticulate cry, Kay rose to her feet and flung herself into Ted's arms.

Tom Runyon, who had been watching the whole dramatic scene from a distance, swung into his saddle. He silently pushed past the group on the trail, and without a backward look, headed down for Clear Water Basin. For a long moment his horse's hoof beats were the only sounds to break the silence.

Sunrise

With sudden radiance, the first rays of the sun caught the tops of the peaks, announcing the arrival of a new day. To the southeast, a heavy cloud of smoke smothered the ridges, but above and ahead of them, all was clear.

"That is the past and the future!" Marion spoke in an awed tone.

Schauders Observe 50th Anniversary of Wedding

A FAMILY gathering was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schauder, Sr., in Clintonville in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Dinner and supper were served and the day was spent informally. Mr. and Mrs. Schauder have two daughters, four sons, fourteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild, all of whom were present for the occasion. Their children are: Mrs. Henry Schmidt, Clintonville; Mrs. Henry Cook, Merrill; Arnold Schauder, Marshfield; William, Jr., Hugo and Harold of Clintonville. Other guests at the anniversary celebration were Adolph Schauder of Rhineland, a brother of William Schauder, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. William Seifert, Henry Seifert, Mrs. J. Yemon, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Seifert, all of Duluth, Minn.; and Mrs. Charles Seifert of Shawano; Mr. and Mrs. H. Peterson of Chicago; all relatives of Mrs. Schauder.

The marriage of Miss Sedonia Seifert to William Schauder took place Sept. 24, 1887, at Dale. The young couple came directly to Clintonville, where the bridegroom was employed at the Meggers shoe store. One year later he purchased a shoe store of his own and in 1898 replaced the old building with the present brick structure now occupied by Schauder and Schauder, a firm composed of his sons, William, Jr., and Hugo. The eldest son, Arnold withdrew from the local firm last spring and established a shoe business with his sons at Marshfield. Harold, the youngest of the Schauders, is a pharmacist at the Oshkosh drug store in Clintonville. Their son-in-law, William H. Schmidt, has been in charge of the shoe repair department at the Schauder store for many years. The other son-in-law, Henry Cook, holds the position of principal of the Merrill public school.

William Schauder, Sr., retired from business about 15 years ago, but retains his ownership of the building where the younger generation is carrying on the business. Both Mr. Schauder, 82, and his wife, who is 89, are unusually well and active about their home on Eighth street. They spend a part of each summer at their cottage on Clover Leaf lakes. Mrs. Schauder is an active member of the Congregational church, its Missionary and Dorcas societies. Mr. Schauder is a member of the Odd Fellow lodge and Mrs. Schauder belongs to the Rebekahs, being a past Noble Grand of the Clintonville lodge.

A smaller gathering of only the immediate relatives was held at the Schauder home on Friday evening.

Pledging Dinners Close Week of College Parties

COMPLETING a week that was a whirl of gay parties, each of the six social sororities on the Lawrence college campus entertained at a preference banquet Saturday night for those rushers who had indicated they favored that group. The weekend's social activity continued with pledging Sunday afternoon, followed by pledge banquets Sunday evening.

The program at Kappa Alpha Theta's preference banquet Saturday night featured a comic opera, directed by Miss Betty Johnson, Mayville. Assisted by a chorus, Miss Johnson, Miss Jean Dorr, Wilmette; Miss Janet Weber, Hubbard Woods, Ill.; Miss Ruth Gray, Chicago; and Miss Barbara Rounds, Appleton, took the main parts. Little nose gowns were given to the guests as favors. After the dinner, the group went to the Joseph Koffend home at 230 W. Prospect avenue for the sorority's traditional candlelight service.

Kappa Alpha Theta pledging took place Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. W. Bergstrom, Jr., 157 N. Park avenue, Neenah, and it was followed by an informal supper at the same place. A "Theta theme" was used for the party held in connection with the pledging. Acting as a doorman, Miss Barbara Rounds met the guests at the door, and later paced the pledges, giving them poems written about them by the actives.

Dinner at Club

North Shore Golf club was the scene of Alpha Delta Phi sorority's preference banquet Saturday night. Miss Betty Morrison, Elmwood Park, Ill., was in charge, and sorority songs and dancing were on the program. Pledging Sunday afternoon in the sorority rooms was followed by a dinner at the Conway hotel. Geometry, used as the theme of the evening's party, also was evident in the titles of the talks given by several girls after the dinner. Miss Betty Morrison spoke on "The Whole Equals the Sum of Its Parts." Miss Betty Jane Winans' subject was "A Staunch Active Chapter," and one of the new pledges, Miss Nathalie Hays, Barrington, Ill., spoke on "To Prove a Worthy Pledge Group."

Little Greek vases were given as favors at the Alpha Chi Omega preference banquet Saturday night at Riverview Country club. Miss Mary Forest, West Allis, was toastmistress. Miss Lois Caverley, Winnetka, spoke for the active chapter, and Miss Ruth McKennan for the alumnae group. Songs, dancing and games provided the evening's entertainment.

After pledging in the Alpha Chi Omega rooms at the Pan-Hellenic house Sunday afternoon, the group went to North Shore Golf club for a pledge banquet. Miss Mary Forest, president of the sorority, again acted as toastmistress and introduced in turn Miss Carolyn Kutz, Chicago, who spoke on active life; Miss Ruth Pfeiffer, Milwaukee, who spoke on the alumna's life; and Miss Eleanor Nisen, Milwaukee, who spoke for the pledges. Later in the evening Miss Dorothy Brown, Milwaukee played and sang some of her own compositions.

Receive Corsages

Delta Gamma rushers who attended that sorority's preference dinner at the Valley Inn, Neenah, Saturday night, received corsages as favors. After the dinner they returned to Appleton and to the home of Mrs. R. K. Wolter, 518 N. Vine street, where they sang sorority songs and were served punch. Pledging Sunday afternoon in the Delta Gamma rooms included the presentation of a song skit, with Miss Eileen Eifamilier, Des Plaines, Ill., and Miss Geraldine Seitz, Milwaukee, as the principals. Pledging was followed by a formal banquet at the Valley Inn. The new pledges received corsages of bronze, pink and blue flowers in the sorority's colors.

Miss Betty Kleiner, Eau Claire, was toastmistress and Miss Frances Moss, Memphis, Tenn., was the speaker at the Kappa Delta preference banquet Saturday night at the Conway hotel. White roses, the sorority's flower, and bud vases were given as favors at the dinner, after which the group went to Mrs. Eric Lindberg's home on route 3 to spend the rest of the evening informally.

The home of the sorority's rushing chairman, Miss Genevieve Gamsky, 806 S. Pierce avenue, was the scene of the pledging ceremony Sunday afternoon, and its pledge banquet at the Heartstone Tea room which followed was based on the theme "A Flower is Born." Appropriately, a huge stock was the center of the decorations; nut cups were little pink booties; and the place cards were buds, announcing the arrival of the pledges. Miss Grace Lightfoot, Cornell, was toastmistress, and Miss Frances Kendig and Miss Alice Jane De Long were speakers.

Sigma Alpha Iota, national musical sorority, held its pledging service at the home of Miss Mary Elizabeth Hopfensperger in Neenah Sunday afternoon, and its pledge banquet in the evening at Heartstone tea room. Miss Gladys Ives Brainard was the speaker and Miss Elizabeth Runcie, Seymour, the toastmistress. Miss Hopfensperger gave a short talk on the sorority, and S.A.I. songs were sung.

Meet at Heartstone

"Ships" was the theme of the preference banquet of Zeta Tau Alpha Saturday night at Heartstone tea room. Miss Cylla Scanlon, Appleton, was toastmistress and a talk was given by Miss Helen Boettcher, Appleton, president of the chapter. Miss Ramona Rochl,

Federated Women's Clubs To Convene at Eau Claire

WITH its program built around the theme, "Community Welfare — Our Responsibility," Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs will gather for its thirty-ninth annual state convention Oct. 6, 7 and 8 at Eau Claire. Mrs. R. J. White, Appleton, Mrs. Robert J. Fitzgerald, Milwaukee, and Mrs. H. A. White, Eau Claire, comprise the state program committee.

Principal speakers on the 3-day program will be Mrs. A. L. Blackstone, Waukesha, state president, who will give the keynote address Wednesday morning, Oct. 6; William H. Spohn, chairman of the state citizens' committee of public welfare; Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana; Mrs. John L. Whitcomb, chairman of the department of education of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Hiram Houghton, past president of the Iowa State Federation; Frank M. Holt, dean of the University of Wisconsin extension division; Harvey Phillip of the Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys at Waukesha; Prof. Nathan Feinsinger, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin and acting counsel for the state labor board; and Harold Ehrensperger, professor of speech at Northwestern university, Evanston.

Pre-convention events will consist of a meeting of the efficiency committee at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, district meetings of the finance, committee, district, presidents, and department and division chairmen at 4 o'clock, meeting of the executive board at 5 o'clock, a dinner complimentary to state board members with the Eau Claire Women's club as hosts at 6 o'clock, and a state board meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Presidents to Confer

The convention proper will open at 9:30 Wednesday morning, Oct. 6, at the First Congregational church auditorium when the keynote speech will be given by Mrs. Blackstone. At 12:15 there will be a luncheon conference for club presidents, something new in the convention program, with Mrs. D. O. Hildard, president of the Eau Claire club, presiding. The afternoon session will resume at 1:50 when a demonstration will be given entitled "Safety at the Crossroads" under the direction of Mrs. John Conroy and traffic officers. William H. Spohn, chairman of the state citizens' committee of public welfare, will give an address entitled "Public Welfare in Wisconsin," and there will be music by the Eau Claire club.

A dinner complimentary to the district presidents will be served at 6:30 that evening, and at the evening session at 8:45 Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana will speak on "The State of the Nation."

"Education for Citizenship" is the topic to be discussed by John L. Whitehurst, chairman of the department of education of the General Federation, at the Thursday morning session. "Overheard Conversations" will take the place of department reports, and all departments will be in conference at one time during the "conference round-ups."

Mrs. Hiram Houghton, past president of the Iowa State Federation, will address the women on "The New Road to Program Building" at the Thursday afternoon session, and Prof. Nathan Feinsinger, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin and acting counsel for the Wisconsin state labor board, will speak on "The Status of Labor."

Observe Anniversary

The fortieth anniversary of the state body joining the General Federation will be observed with a banquet at 6:15 Thursday evening at which Mrs. Hazel Weiler Mills will provide the music. An evening session at 8:30 will be featured by music of an a cappella choir and a symposium on "Understanding Youth" led by Mrs. Anne Pearce Bond, specialist in youth work in the state of Michigan. Evening speakers will be Frank O. Holt, dean of the Wisconsin university extension division, whose subject will be "Does Our Present Day Education Educate for Living?" and Harvey Phillip of the Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys at Waukesha, who will speak on "The Forgotten Age in Social Adjustment."

The last day of the convention will open with committee reports, a discussion of juniors, and "Present Day Styles in Club Achievements." The speaker will be Dr. J. Martin Klotzke of Milwaukee State Teachers' college, whose subject will be "Europe-War or Peace?"

The federation luncheon will be held at 12:15 and the speaker will be Harold Ehrensperger, professor of speech at Northwestern university at Evanston, on "The Drama as a Force in Community Life." Federation awards will be made at this time.

Delegates from Appleton Women's club to the state convention are Mrs. L. M. Schindler, president; Mrs. Jay Wallens, secretary; Mrs. E. W. Cooney, Mrs. A. B. Fisher, Mrs. L. J. Marshall, and the alternates include Mrs. F. J. Grist, Mrs. J. R. Whitman and Mrs. James B. Wagg. Mrs. E. V. Werner and Mrs. George R. Wettengel are district officers.

Circle to Map Plans for Charity Ball

INFANT Welfare circle of the Appleton King's Daughters will have its first meeting of the fall Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Denney, Hycerst. Officers will meet at 12:30 and will be joined by the other members of the circle for a luncheon at 1 o'clock. Preliminary plans for the organization's holiday season charity ball, its major function of the year, are expected to come up for discussion.

The first fall social event for the young married set that makes up the membership of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce and its auxiliary will be a theater party Tuesday night, with dancing afterward at the Rainbow Gardens. The party was planned by the auxiliary, and the committee in charge consists of Mrs. Stanley Gross, chairman, Mrs. Walter Brummund and Mrs. L. B. McBain.

Items of Interest to Royaltal and Vicinity

Royaltal — Mrs. Fred Davis of Waupaca visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Paronto on Sunday and left on Wednesday for Seattle for a month's visit with relatives.

Elcho Priest Delivers Sermon at Kimberly

Kimberly — The Rev. Theodore Verbeten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Verbeten, Kimberly, now of Elcho, delivered the sermon at the closing of the forty hours devotion held at Holy Name church Sunday evening. His sermon was based on "The Sacrifice of the Mass." Father Verbeten was ordained to the priesthood in 1924 and said his first mass at Holy Name church.

After the sermon a procession with the blessed sacrament was held in church. More than fifty school children dressed in white took part. The procession started from the main altar, down the center aisle, around to each side aisle and back through the center to the altar. The order of procession was: cross, school children, Holy Name society, altar boys, clergy and the blessed sacrament. Twelve priests from neighboring towns attended the services. The church was filled to capacity.

Confessions will be heard at the church Thursday afternoon and evening for those wishing to receive holy communion the first Friday of the month. Holy hour will be held from 7 to 8 o'clock Friday evening. Confessions also will be held Saturday afternoon and in the evening after benediction and rosary. Next Sunday the Christian Mother society will receive holy communion in a body at the 6:30 mass.

Lee Weiss, 1203 N. Bennett street, Appleton, paid a fine of $1 and costs last week in justice court for passing the bus at an intersection between Kimberly avenue and Wilson street. He was arrested by Chief of Police, John Bernady.

Appleton Pair Married At Sacred Heart Church

MISS CATHERINE BLOB, daughter of Joseph Blob, 1408 S. Jefferson street, became the bride of Clarence J. Tiesling, son of Mrs. Bardeen Tiesling, route 1, in a ceremony performed at 8 o'clock this morning at Sacred Heart church. The Rev. F. L. Ruessmann read the nuptial mass. Attending the couple were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Genevieve Tiesling, and the bride's brother, Bernard Blob. Mrs. Joseph Mauthe and Mrs. Joseph Guilfoyle sang a duet, "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kuchelmeister, 1316 S. Jackson street. Out-of-town guests were Robert Astaire and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Haase, Milwaukee.

Mr. Tiesling and his bride plan to take a wedding trip to Milwaukee, where they will also make their home eventually. The bridegroom is a railroad employe in Milwaukee, and his bride is employed by the Appleton Woolen Mills.

Prelwitz-Krueger

The marriage of Miss Luella Prelwitz, daughter of Robert Prelwitz, Tigerton, and Gordon Krueger, son of Mrs. Selma Krueger, route 1, Appleton, was solemnized at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Zion Evangelical church, Greenville, the Rev. L. G. Thiel, Sparta, uncle of the bridegroom, performing the ceremony. Miss Dorothy Prelwitz, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the Misses Loraine and Ethel Krueger, sisters of the bridegroom, Myrtle Thiel, his cousin, and Viola Prelwitz, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Gertrude Krueger, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and Tommy Thompson was ring bearer. Chummy Reynolds, Hortonville, attended Mr. Krueger as best man.

About 100 guests attended the reception at the home of the bridegroom's mother after the ceremony, and a wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock in the evening. The couple will live in Appleton, where Mr. Krueger is employed by the Kalamazoo Stove company. His bride has been working at the Zwicker Knitting mills.

Novakofski Leads Vikes to 21 to 0 Grid Win

Menasha Youth Gallops 42-Yards For First Marker

Northwestern College Fails To Threaten Lawrence Goal

BY GORDON MCINTYRE
ED by Alby Novakofski, Menasha, who scored two touchdowns, tossed most of the passes and did considerable of the punting, and Joe Maertzwiler who was almost a whole defense in himself, Lawrence college football team defeated Northwestern college of Watertown, 21 to 0, Saturday afternoon at Whiting field before a pretty fair opening day turnout.

During at least three periods Lawrence looked like a fair ball team. In the other period inability to get off punts against the wind kept the Vikes well back in their own territory.

However, considering that the squad had practiced only eight days before taking the field against the Lutherans, and that its efforts in scrimmages not so many days ago really were bad, Lawrence turned in a commendable exhibition. Another week of practice should bring considerable improvement and polish.

Vande Walle Hurt
Practically every man on the squad saw action at least for a few minutes and there were a couple men who had no previous experience who turned in some nice plays. Only one injury marred the game from a Vike standpoint but it may be a costly one. Evan Vande Walle, fullback, who showed rushing ability and who had been depended upon to toss long passes, left the game in the second quarter with an injured ankle. The extent of the injury probably won't be known until late today.

Offensively the work of Novakofski and Ken Buesing, the latter a sophomore, stood out. Both men played practically the entire game with the former juggling the ball about half the time, tossing passes which Buesing snared any time they came near him, and doing almost all of the punting. Except when kicking into the wind, the boots all were good.

The Vike line, which had been one of the big question marks, showed considerable drive and enthusiasm, most of its errors being charged to inexperience. Occasionally the ends would rush in too far and miss tackles or some of the men in the middle would be taken out on plays but not so far that they didn't at least slow down the runners so that the secondary, especially Little Joe, could come up and smack the ball carrier. Offensively the linemen showed in spots but should improve with another week of work.

N.W. Never Threatened
The best indication of the Vike defensive work was the fact that Northwestern never really threatened. Its much vaunted passing attack and laterals, especially the latter, never had a chance and several times the laterals went rolling.

Cotton's 631 series led the Minnesota team to high scoring honors and a 2-game win over Michigan. C. Bright hit the maples for a 545. D. E. Netherman, secretary of the series to pace the Michigan squad.

Where are the Dodgers of Old? N. Y. Giants Beat Them Twice

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
T O all intents and purposes, the Giants have the National League pennant tucked away in their pocket, but there's still the bare chance that those big bad Bees from Boston will knock them over the head and take the title away.

The last hope for the Cubs, who now trail Bill Terry's Terriers by four games, lies in the ability of the Bees to continue their jinx over the Giants in two double headers at the Polo Grounds today and tomorrow.

As matters now stand, any combination of six-six wins for the Giants, six losses for the Cubs, or a sum making up that total—clinches the pennant for the New Yorkers.

They have 11 games to play, to the Cubs' seven. At the moment, here's the picture:

Club W L Games Behind To Play
Giants	89 54 11
Cubs	87 60 4 7

The Bees have whipped the Giants 10 times in 18 starts this year. After they leave the Polo Grounds, the Giants run out their schedule against the Phillies and Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers, once the Giants' best-loved enemies, showed how easy they were over the weekend by losing a 2-game series to the New Yorkers. After bowing on Saturday, they put up a game enough fight yesterday, until Lou Chiozza, a reformed Philly, and newest "white-haired boy" of the Terry troupe, walloped a homer in the ninth inning to break up the game with a 4-3 Giant win.

The Cubs managed only an even break in their double-header with the Cardinals. Bill Lee folded in the ninth inning and the Cards took the opener 6-5 with a 4-run ninth inning spurge. A 6-run spree in the sixth inning brought an 8-3 Cub victory in the nightcap.

Jack Wilson's speedball slants bothered the Yankees no end, and the Boston Red Sox socked the American league champions 7-2, while holding them to six hits.

The Cleveland Indians, given classy fireball flinging by undefeated Johnny Allen and Bob Feller, downed Detroit twice, 9-3 and 4-3. The opener was Allen's 14th straight triumph.

The Pirates took the Cincinnati Reds twice, 5-4 and 2-1. The Bees slaughtered the Phillies 17-3, with Tony Cuccinello hitting two homers and rookie pitcher Milt Shofner one.

The White Sox trounced the St. Louis Browns twice, 4-3 and 4-0. The Athletics rallied to an 11-inning 7-all tie with the Senators.

Reorganize L. C. Bowling League

Eight Teams Enter Circuit Which Opens Schedule Sept. 29

Little Chute—Eight teams entered the Little Chute Bowling League when it was reorganized here last Friday night. Lambert Schommer was elected president and Jerry Lamers was re-named secretary and treasurer for the sixth consecutive year.

The league will open its season Wednesday night with teams rolling games in two shifts, the first at 7 o'clock and the second at 9 o'clock. High lifes meet Higgins Dairies and Hermen Grocers clash with Hammen Hotels in the 7 o'clock pairings.

Little Chute American Legion takes on Hanegraaf Grocers and Little Chute Bottling Works will meet Van Ryn's Meats in the second round.

Members of the teams are: Van Ryn's Meats—Lambert, G. Dietzen, J. Van Ryn, Clarence and a new addition, A. P. Rook, captain; Hammen's Hotel—R. Vanden Heuvel, H. Haupt, T. Verstecken, Whitey Driessen and Emil Hinkens, captain; American Legion—L. Lucasen, J. Strick, J. Lamers, P. Willenberg, H. Van Dyke and O. Bonkers, captain; Hermen, G. Look, B. Gledemans, G. Vanden Heuvel and S. Verstecken, captain.

Hielgas Dairy—J. Vanden Heuvel, Ed Verstecken, H. Stark, T. Schippers, J. Hietpas and G. Hietpas, captain; Little Chute Bottling company—Jack Hietpas, S. De Groet, Joe Verhaegen, W. Vandenberg and Ed Miller, captain; Miller High Life—H. De Bruin, N. Vander Pas, H. Verstecken, J. Van Offeren and E. Williamsen, captain.

Coch Bland Wants His Team to Win, but Fairly
Allentown, Pa.—Coach Willard Bland of Bellwood High school often has told his team he would rather see it lose than to win unfairly.

He proved he meant just that Saturday when his boys, trailing 6-7 to Cooper township, flipped a pass, which was good for a touchdown. While the teams were lining up for Bellwood's extra point attempt, Bland rushed onto the field.

"I'm sorry," said he politely, "but an ineligible lineman caught that pass and made the touchdown." The play was called back, the game ended, and Cooper won 7-0.

VIKE GRIDDERS WIN, 21-0

Lawrence college football team opened the season Saturday afternoon with a 21 to 0 win over Northwestern college, the Vikes showing fairly well considering the inexperience of many of the men and the fact the squad had practiced only a week. In the upper picture the Lutherans appear to have made a pretty fair hole in the Lawrence line and Hempel, 77, is starting through. However, Dick Garvey, Lawrence center, 26, is moving into view in the background and whether he made the tackle or not, Hempel didn't get far. Some of the Vikes shown in the picture are, left to right, Skow, 28, Captain Grode, falling, Hatten, guard, trying to get through the Northwestern line. Garvey, 26, Bodilly, tackle, with his head protruding from the pileup on the right, and Cliff Burton trying to push his way through.

In the lower picture, Dan Weidman, halfback, has just crossed the goal for the second marker. There wasn't an opponent within 15 feet of him. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Grimm Ordered to Rip Apart His Chicago Cubs

BY LUDWIG BRIETZ
NEW YORK—(U)—Step right up to the head of the class and take a bow for yourself, Mr. Francis Schmidt, Texas Christian University's star pitcher, who was named "Pitcher of the Year" by the Associated Press.

Now, when the Pitt first team defeated the second team, 14-6, Tim Cohane, Fordham press agent, wrote Frank Carver, who puts Pitt in the papers: "That probably will be the closest game you'll have all year."

Owner Philip K. Wrigley has ordered Charlie Grimm to rip the Cubs apart. . . . Losing two out of three to the Giants was the last straw for the chewing gum king. . . .

Swedes are supposed to come from Sweden, but Helge Pearson, a blonde 215-pound tackle on the Michigan State football squad, hails from Norway, (Mich.). . . .

Paddy Driscoll, Marquette coach, is burned up. . . . At a testimonial dinner recently, Gabby Hartnett, of the Cubs, the spring chicken himself, said: "I remember this guy well. . . . When I was a kid I used to cut pictures of him out of the papers and paste 'em in my cat-chism."

FWD Gridders Win 12 to 0 From Reds

Volkmann Plunges for First Marker; Johnson Scores On Seventy-Yard Dash

Clintonville — Smashing the line hard and taking advantage of a break in the second period, the Clintonville Truckers turned back the Appleton Reds 12 to 0 in a semi-pro grid game here last Friday night. Volkmann scored the first Clintonville touchdown when he hit the line for a marker in the first period after a series of line plunges brought the ball in scoring territory.

Johnson intercepted an Appleton pass on his own 50-yard line and raced through the entire Appleton team for the second touchdown. His 70-yard dash ended the scoring. In the second period Clintonville again drove into scoring position with a 15-yard penalty ending the threat on the Reds' 5-yard stripe. Appleton got the ball in scoring position twice but the Truckers held for down inside the 10-yard line.

Gehrke and Billings were outstanding in the Truckers' line, with the former showing his best work at the center position. Billings, a guard, stood out with hard tackling and blocking.

Kenosha Riders Place In Bike Championship
Chicago —(U)—Earl Kelly of Chicago won the national senior road racing bicycle championship yesterday over the Humboldt Park course, riding in 11 points.

Mickey Franziose of Newark, N. J., was second with eight points while other point scores included: Frank Divorski, Kenosha, 3; Gerald Juttormsen, Kenosha, 3.

Johnny Rowe Too Tough and Kaukauna Loses Quest for Northern State Title

BY GORDON MCINTYRE
GREEN BAY.—Scoring four runs in the third and two in the eighth, Green Bay's Sox won the championship of the Northern State league here Sunday afternoon, 6 to 3, from the Kaukauna Electric City Brewers. It was the third game of the series, the Kaws losing the first, 2 to 1, and taking the second last week, 2 to 0, when Carnevagh allowed only three hits. Kaukauna won the first half the league honors and the Bays the second half.

Although the Bays and Johnny Rowe got off to a shaky start in the first frame, they settled down there after and Johnny allowed only two singles while his mates turned in as startling plays as some in the first inning were dumb. Johnny allowed five hits during the contest, three in the first and two the remainder of the way, fanned fourteen batters and walked one.

Walter "Sonny" Carnevagh of the Brewers did well in every frame except the two that the Bays scored runs, the third and eighth. Carnevagh was invincible when there was no one on but he tightened up badly under pressure as in the third and couldn't locate the plate. He walked in the Bays' first run and the fact he had to all but toss the ball up to locate the plate resulted in a couple of solid swats. Carnevagh whiffed four and walked three.

Played Before Full House
The game was played before a packed house and the clubs split the receipts 60-40. There was plenty of arguing with the umpires to enliven play and during the dull moments there were comments over the loud speaker system by Richard "Red" Smith, Marty Lamers, the writer, and Bernard Newman. Two writers, acting president of the league. At the end of the game Johnny Rowe added a few remarks as did Sonny Carnevagh.

Manager Howard Bowers of the Kaws fanned to start the ball game but Joe Vils hit one sharply down the first base line which bounced past Zuidmuller for a single. Vandershek then came to the plate and smacked a single through short and into center and Joie letged it for third. He had the throw beat but the outfielder tossed the ball over Clusman's head and Joie scored. Vandershek stopped at second on the play but was permitted to take third because the ball hit the stands. Howie Radder fanned but Eggert blasted a pitch into center.

W. I. A. A. Tests Offered At High School Tuesday

An interpretation of W. I. A. A. rules and regulations meeting for coaches wishing to officiate at football games this season will be held at Appleton High school Tuesday.

About 60 men are expected to take the tests which will include 50 questions on football technicalities and 50 on the W. I. A. A. rules. The tests were sent out by P. F. Neumann, secretary of the W. I. A. A.

Carlton Wins First Midwest Game, 13 to 6

Northfield Minn.—(U)—Carlton College overcame a big obstacle in its path to a second straight midwest football championship here Saturday when it overcame a fighting Coe college team 13 to 6. The first Carlton touchdown in the second period came when Martin passed to Bob Jackson in the end zone for the score. The second touchdown also was by Martin who dashed around end for the score. Martin drove-kicked for the extra point. Wedgbury hit center for a touchdown and then failed to convert for Coe in the third.

Former Shawano High Star Shoots Himself

Shawano—(U)—Edward Achten, 22, former Shawano High school athlete, was found dead in bed at his home late yesterday, a bullet wound in his head.

Sheriff Carl Drueckery said a discharged rifle was found on the floor near the bed. Achten left two notes. Drueckery said, one addressed to his family and the other to his sweetheart.

and Vandershek scored. Hammy Powell rolled to retire the side. The first three Bays to the plate grounded and the next three repeated in the second inning.

Take 3-0 Lead
The Brewers took a 3 to 0 lead in the first of the third frame. Bowers opened by hitting to Clusman who bobbled. Vils then laid down a bunt but Johnny Rowe tried to race him to the bag, saw he couldn't tag him and tossed to Zuidmuller who couldn't handle the throw. Bowers moved to third on the play sliding in under Clusman. Vils offered second but the ball caromed off Fontana's glove and Bowers trotted home from third. The run was destined to be the last for the Kaws for they failed to get a man past first base the remainder of the game.

Green Bay aroused itself in its half of the third. McClain worked Carnevagh for a walk and Dobkoski hit sharply to third and it was for a single. Carnevagh flied the ball and Eggert rushed in too, and first was left uncovered.

Walter Webb Wins Trophy in A. M. A. Bike Races Sunday

Winton Glaser Outstanding Among Appleton Entrants

WALTER Webb, Fond du Lac, won the trophy in the motorcycle races held Sunday near the Whiting airport on Highway 41. The race was sanctioned by the American Motorcycle association and sponsored by the Appleton club.

Outstanding among Appleton entrants was Winton Glaser who took two firsts, two seconds and a third place. The races were run over a one-fifth mile flat track. Dust interfered considerably with the riders. There were several accidents but no one was seriously injured. Mike Cones, Fond du Lac, suffered a cut arm in a collision with Harvey Hasse of Fond du Lac.

The races and results:
45 cubic inches, amateur, 5 laps—First, Walter Webb, Fond du Lac; second, Winton Glaser, Appleton; third, Carl Wayne, Fond du Lac.

45 cubic inches, expert, 5 laps—First, Winton Glaser; second, Walter Webb, Fond du Lac; third, Harvey Hasse, Fond du Lac.

80 cubic inches, amateur, 5 laps—First, Walter Pritchard, Menasha; second, Robert Stark, Appleton; third, Deacon Murdoch, Menasha.

45 cubic inches, expert, finals, 8 laps—First, Walter Webb, Fond du Lac; second, Winton Glaser, Appleton; third, Harvey Hasse, Fond du Lac.

80 cubic inch trophy race, expert, finals—First, Walter Webb, Fond du Lac; second, Walter Pritchard, Menasha; third, Winton Glaser, Appleton.

St. Mary Held to Tie by St. John

Little Chute Checks Menasha in Non-League Tilt

BIG CROWD AT GAME

Zephyrs are Outplayed By Hollanders in Second Half

BY RANDY HAASE

ENASHIA—The St. Mary football team was held to a 12 to 12 tie by St. John of Little Chute in a non-league game here Sunday afternoon. The game was played at the Butte des Morts field before a crowd of nearly 2,000.

St. John opened the scoring early in the first half when DeYoung fumbled the opening kickoff. F. Weyenberg recovered the ball on the 20 and the Little Chute were off. Weyenberg picked up five in two attempts and Koehn made a first down on the ten. Hamman hit the line for four, Weyenberg was spilled for no gain by Spalding, a pass fell incomplete and then Little Koehn scooted between end and tackle for a touchdown. Walbrun blocked the attempt to convert by Boots.

St. Mary immediately began the first of its two touchdown marches. Schipferling returned the kickoff by Boots 17 yards to the 37. DeYoung went over right guard for 8 and Earl Grade made a first down on the 49. He picked up three more and then Resch made it another first down on the St. John 38 in two tries.

St. Mary Ties Score
A fumble lost two but DeYoung sent a pass to Schipferling in the flat zone and the St. Mary quarterback was finally chased out on the 16-yard line. A penalty set St. Mary back 5 yards but Resch tossed a short pass to Schipferling who scampered across the goal line. A pass for the extra point fell incomplete. Score: St. Mary 6, St. John 6.

After an exchange of punts in the second quarter, the St. Mary team started its second scoring drive, aided by a couple of penalties Grade made a nice punt return to the 27 yard line. Resch hit the line for 6 yards in two attempts and DeYoung slid through for a first down on the 16. Resch again hit center for 5 and Grade added a yard. The gain was nullified when DeYoung fumbled as he went back to pass and recovered on the 19. He faded back to pass to Grade and the pass was ruled complete on the 13 on interference by Boots. The ruling also gave St. Mary a first down there.

DeYoung picked up a couple of yards in two tries and St. John was penalized to the 3, where it was first down for St. Mary. DeYoung hit the line for 2 and Grade blasted the ball over. Another pass fell incomplete in the attempt for the extra point. Score: St. Mary 12, St. John 6.

Books Intercepts Pass
St. Mary started another offensive which carried them to the Little Chute 34 on a pass from DeYoung to Resch. However, Books intercepted another of DeYoung's tosses and with the second half, St. John carried the fight and forced the Zephyrs on the defensive throughout.

The first St. John thrust was stopped a yard short of a first down on the 3-yard line. Resch had punted out on the 41. A. VanDyke took Hamman's pass and ran 20 yards to the 11 where he was finally dragged down by DeYoung. Four thrusts into the line failed to make a first down and Resch punted out to Koehn, who returned to the 29-yard line. Jerome Helt fumbled for a 6 yard loss but Koehn scooted around right end for 35 yards and a touchdown on the next play. A line buck by Hamman failed for the extra point. Score: St. Mary 12, St. John 12.

Koehn is Stopped
St. Mary received the kickoff but lost the ball when Koerner, a tackle and reliable receiver, took a pass from DeYoung. Koehn nearly broke away for a touchdown on the next play. He was stopped on the 4-yard line after a gain of 26 yards by Schipferling. Boots gained a yard and Hamman took the ball to the 2-foot line. Too many time outs set St. John back to the 5 but VanDyke was called for roughing on the next play. St. John was given a first down on the 23 yard line but successive thrusts by Hamman, Boots, Weyenberg and Koehn still left 2 feet to go.

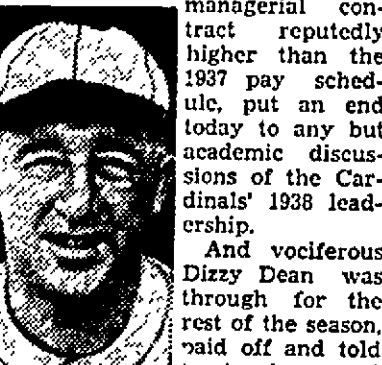

Koehn returned Resch's punt to the 16 to threaten the St. Mary goal again. Three line thrusts netted only 2 yards gain and a pass fell incomplete. Weyenberg intercepted DeYoung's pass on the 30 and returned it to the 19 and four plays gained only one yard. St. Mary took the ball on their 13. H. Van Grevsen intercepted a pass from Resch on the 19. The St. John threat was cut short by the end of the game.

St. Mary had an edge in first downs, particularly in the first half when they gained five by rushing, two by passes and two by penalties. St. John had only one in the first half. The Zephyrs had no first downs in the second half. However, three first downs for St. John do not indicate the constant way they threatened the St. Mary goal in the second period.

The lineup:
St. Mary (12) P. Picard, L. Spalding, K. Koerner, P. Prunuske, W. Waburn, L. Lignosky
St. John (12) P. Helt, R. DeBruin, L. Van Bovel, C. Van Lankvelt, C. Van Handel, L. Lenz

Frank Frisch Signs For 1938 With Cards

St. Louis, —(U)— "Frank Frisch," scribbled on the dotted line of a managerial contract reputedly higher than the 1937 pay schedule, put an end today to any but academic discussions of the Cardinals' 1938 leadership.

And vociferous Dizzy Dean was through for the rest of the season, said off and told to stay home and rest his sore arm and sore toe.

President Sam Breadon announced both transactions yesterday before the Cards split a doubleheader with Chicago's Cubs.

Lawrence Eleven In 21 to 0 Win Over Lutherans

as free balls and on a couple occasions Lawrence recovered. Northwestern kicked off to Maertzwiler as the game opened and Joe pounded down the middle to the 40 yard line, a 22-yard return. Buesing slipped off the tackle to bring a first down on the Northwestern 44 after a couple plays picked up a few yards, and Evan Vande Walle gave the Vikes a first on the Lutheran 26. Here passes went awry and Lawrence punted to the Northwestern 14.

Several exchanges of punts followed with the Vikes remaining in Northwestern territory. Once Lawrence moved to the 21-yard line but was held and forced to punt. Finally Novakowski punted out on the Northwestern 12 and the Lutherans punted back to the Vike 42 where Novakowski took the ball on the run, cut down the south side-line, side-stopped on the two men and crossed the goal line standing up. Grode placekicked for the point and the Vikes led, 7 to 0. The quarter ended shortly thereafter.

Shortly after the second quarter got underway Dick Garvey, playing center, recovered a Northwestern fumble lateral on the Lutheran 45. The Vikes then starting rushing the ball with Novakowski, Buesing and Weidman doing most of the work and finally brought up the 5-yard line with about a yard and a half to go on fourth down. Northwestern stopped the plunge and took the ball.

Pass Goes Bad
The Lutherans made two first downs in a row but Buesing intercepted a pass on the Lutheran 40. Here Novakowski and Buesing clicked on a pass that brought a first down on the 18-yard line. Weidman picked up about six but Maertzwiler was stopped. Buesing then made it first down on the 6-yard line. Novakowski picked up three but on the next play inexact play on the line kept the Lutherans on the 6-yard line. When Dick Garvey, center, led Weidman a bit too far on a pass from center the ball got away and rolled to the 20. It was a costly break and the half ended shortly thereafter.

The third stanza saw Lawrence playing its worst ball. The Vikes couldn't get the ball past midfield on punts because of the wind and couldn't gain consistently. Northwestern was regularly kicking out of bounds deep within Vike territory and the period ended with the count still 7 to 0 for the Vikes.

When the teams changed goals for the last period the Vikes took Northwestern in the hole. The Lutherans punted out to their own 35 where Buesing took a lateral from Novakowski and scampered to the 20. Here Northwestern's defense stiffened and the Vikes failed to make first down by a yard and a half.

Vikes Score Again
Northwestern also was held and punted out to the 30. A Novakowski to Buesing brought a first down in the 13-yard line and then Albany picked up about five and then earned a first down on the 4-yard stripe. Here Weidman went off the tackle for a touchdown and Grode kicked the point making the score 14 to 0.

Lawrence kicked to Northwestern and a 15-yard penalty put the Lutherans deep in their own territory. They punted to Weidman who returned about 10 and a couple punts and a pass. Novakowski to Buesing, gave the Vikes a first down on the Northwestern 25. The attack stumbled then but Novakowski gained a first down around the end on the 14-yard line. Albany picked up six and then one and Weidman made it first down on the 4-yard stripe. On his second smash at the line Novakowski went

Budge, Miss Marble Are Singles Winners

Los Angeles—(U)— Red-head Don Budge and beautiful Alice Marble, fresh from singles victories in the Pacific Southwest tournament here, turned today to San Francisco and the Pacific coast championships.

Miss Marble, driving to a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Gracy Wheeler yesterday, avenged the defeat she suffered at the hands of the Santa Monica girl here a year ago.

Budge captured the men's singles title Saturday by beating his German rival, Baron Gottfried Von Cram 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, 7-5.

Brewers Beat Columbus to Stay Game Behind in Series

MILWAUKEE—(U)— Only one game behind the Columbus Red Birds in their American association playoff series as a result of a 6-5 Brewer victory here yesterday, the Milwaukee baseball club counted today on the pitching of Ralph Winegarner to win the sixth game of the set.

Leading three games to two in the series, Columbus, however, needs only one more victory to clinch the playoff and bag the right to meet Newark, International league pennant winner, in the annual "Little World Series."

Winegarner turned in his club's first victory in the playoff last Thursday by pitching a 2-0 shutout and hurling hitless ball for eight of the nine innings.

In winning yesterday's game, Forrest Pressnell allowed 13 hits, but his mates drilled out 14 base raps of their own, with an eighth-inning homer by Mickey Heath, first sacker, providing the winning tally.

High School Pupils to Hold Interclass Swim Meet at Lawrence Gym

The annual interclass swimming meet for seniors, juniors and sophomores of Appleton High school will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at Alexander gymnasium.

Co-captains of the senior team will be James Bailey and Kenneth Milhaupt. James Milhaupt will head the juniors and Robert Bayley will lead the sophomores. Teams have been chosen from each class and are all ready to go in and win a championship.

Included on the list of events will be: 25-yard breast stroke, 25-yard back stroke, 25-yard free style stroke, 50-yard breast, 50-yard back, 50-yard free style, 100-yard free style relay, a 75-yard medley to include back, breast and free style strokes, diving events and a picnic race.

Count Twice in Late Rally to Take First Playoff Game

SCORE IS 10 TO 8

Victory Puts Merchants Out of Race for 2nd Round Title

GREENVILLE — Black Creek rallied in the last inning to score two runs and a 10 to 8 win over Greenville Merchants Sunday in the first game of the playoff for the second round championship of the Outagamie County Baseball league. The victory eliminated Greenville from the playoff and Black Creek will meet Shiloh next Sunday for the round championship.

The game was loosely played with each team being credited with six errors. Greenville had taken an 8 to 4 lead after the fifth, but Black Creek tied the count after a pair of runs in the sixth and seventh frames. It looked like another marathon affair when Erv Rohloff walked with one out in the ninth, stole second and advanced to third as Le Capitaine flied out. Earl Rohloff hit a lucky double, his short fly falling safely in center field, to score a run.

Charles Le Capitaine hit a slow roller to G. Huebner at third and the ball was fielded and thrown to first allowing Earl Rohloff to score from second base. Single then grounded out. In the last half of the ninth By Burton drew a walk with one out and went to third as R. Rietzen singled. Dats Crowe and Reimer struck out to end the game.

Creekers Err Five Times
John Miller pitched a good game for the Black Creek squad but in the fourth inning his infield mates blew up and had five errors. Two hits added to these gave the Greenville team five runs. In the fifth Greenville counted three runs on three hits and an error with the error allowing the third run to come in.

Dats Crowe started for the Merchants, with the Black Creek boys finding his offerings easy to hit. A pair of triples, a double and two errors gave the Creek squad three runs in the initial frame. A double play pulled Crowe out of trouble in the third but he got back in hot water in the fifth and another double play pulled him out with only one run scoring after four innings.

He went to the showers in the first half of the seventh when Black Creek tied the score and had a man on base with only one out. George Fredericks took up the relief role and the next two men grounded out.

Appleton Reds Down Manitowoc

Sanders and Block Score Winning Points After Blocked Punt

Appleton Reds defeated Manitowoc Saturday afternoon in a 7 to 6 upset after a 7 to 6 upset after a blocked punt put the ball into position to score in the second period.

Manitowoc's starter came on a 10 yard pass in the first period and some good blocking featured the race for the ball.

The Reds took possession of the ball deep in Manitowoc territory in the second quarter and Eddie Sanders placed the ball on the 2-yard line for the punt. Block kicked for a victory. The blocked punt was one of three that the Appleton squad broke up during the ball game.

Manitowoc's passing attack was poor, but the blocking was fair and showed only a little need for improvement. Four of the Reds were hurt during the fray. Don Green and Vic Salm injured their ankles, while Elmer Horn suffered a knee injury and a hip injury. All are expected to be ready to play next Sunday when the Reds tentatively have scheduled the newly-organized Fond du Lac squad.

Manitowoc Tops Oshkosh High

Touchdown in First Period Brings 6 to 0 Victory Saturday

Manitowoc—A touchdown early in the first quarter by Patte McDonnell gave Manitowoc Lincoln high a 6-0 victory over Oshkosh in a Fox River Valley conference football game here Saturday afternoon. McDonnell crossed the goal line with a 12-yard dash around right end. Beduhn attempted a place kick but the kick was low and was blocked.

The Indians, although threatening several times, were unable to tie the score. Oshkosh had the ball on the 11 yard line when the half ended. In the fourth period the half ended in a tie, who crossed the goal line. The score was 6 to 0. However, the ball brought back to the 29-yard line where the officials ruled that Erdlitz had been downed.

Public School Faculties Organize Bowling League

Faculty members of Appleton public schools are organizing a bowling league which will roll once a week this winter. The place has not been named. Teams will be organized at Wilson Junior high, Roosevelt Junior high, the senior high school, and a combination team from McKinley Junior high and the vocational school. A horseshoe tournament for faculty members is also being planned.

Juniors, Seniors Tangle In H. S. Softball Meet

Junior and senior softball teams entered in the high school intramural tournaments will tangle Tuesday evening in what may be the deciding game of the tourney. The seniors have defeated the sophomores twice and the juniors once. A win Tuesday will give the seniors an uncontestable lead.

Kaws Find Clintonville Easy in Taking 51 to 0 N.E.W. Conference Win

BY BILL DOWLING
KAUKAUNA — Kaukauna high defeated Clintonville 51 to 0 in a Northwestern Wisconsin conference game that was marked by frequent Trucker fumbles and a decidedly improved Kaw squad that indicated it still is much in the race for the league title. Kaukauna's 8-touchdown total was scored practically at will and the only time Clintonville was effective was in the fourth quarter when Coach Paul E. Little used reserves.

The Kaukauna scoring began after Peterson, who had been shifted from end to halfback, had kicked over the Clintonville goal early in the first period. On the first play Bill fumbled and the Trunkers lost eight yards. Bill rattled off the eight yards on the next play but was tackled hard and dropped the ball with Hooyman recovering for Kaukauna on the 23-yard line.

Peterson picked up five yards and Kobussen was stopped cold, but Peterson made it a first down with another 5-yard gain. McCormick hit the line for four yards and Clintonville tried to rally its defense but Peterson plunged through the center of the line for the first marker. Giordana's kick from place was blocked.

Peterson's second kickoff was returned by Clintonville to its own 13. Zastrow was nailed for a yard loss and Eberhardt was just as fortunate on second down. Goerlinger's punt sailed out of bounds on his own 32. After two Kaw line smashes had gained Alger brought the crowd to its feet but dropped Peterson's long pass over the goal line. Another long pass, Peterson to McCormick also was incomplete, and the Trucks took the ball on their 20.

Zastrow's 2-yard gain encouraged the Trucks to try again, but Zastrow's loss forced Goerlinger into punt formation from where he kicked to his own 36. Captain Bill McCormick warmed up with seven yards around left end and then ran the remaining 29 for Kaukauna's second touchdown. Giordana made it 13 to 0 with a perfect placekick.

Kimberly Bowlers Open 1937 Season

Booster League Adds 4 Squads to Enlarge Circuit to 14 Teams

Kimberly—The ten pins will fly at the Kimberly alleys Monday evening as the Booster league opens its season. Although four teams of last year have declined to bowl this season, enough new entries will show to make it a 14-team league.

Doubleheaders will be rolled Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening with a single game on Thursday evening. Monday evening Verhagen Hardware meets the Electricians at 7 o'clock, while at 8:30 the Rare bowlers and Coppens Shoes are scheduled.

At 7 o'clock Tuesday evening the Research and Art's Decorators will clash and at 8:30 Billie Bumpers will meet the School Mams. At 7 o'clock Wednesday evening Van Thull's and Wrinkles will roll while at 8:30 Karl's Klub will take on the Super Calendars. For Thursday evening Miller High Life squad will roll the Athletic club.

New teams in the league are: School Mams, Billie's Bumpers, Miller's High Life, Athletic club, and Coppens Shoes.

4-yard line. Schubring ran over the goal and Watkins booted a dropkick between the uprights to make the score 51 to 0.

Trucks Wake Up
The Trucks now had no mercy on the third-string Kaukauna line and ran off two successive first downs and then fumbled.

Watson tore off a gain of 25 yards around right end before the game ended with Clintonville in possession of the ball on their own 11.

Kaukauna's surprise of the afternoon was Carl Giordana. Supposedly only a blocking back, he showed ability as a runner, passer and passer. Bill McCormick showed flashes of last year and Lee Lamme recovered a number of fumbles. The entire line from end to end was greatly improved over the Shawano game with even the second and third string substitutes holding their own against the Trucks.

The starting lineup:

	Clintonville	Kaukauna

Insured Banks of State Gaining in Total Resources

Deposits 6 Per Cent Higher Than at Close of June, 1936

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—Total resources and deposits of insured commercial banks in Wisconsin were greater at the end of June 1937 than on June 30 of last year, the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation announced today.

Resources of the 581 insured banks in Wisconsin totaled $964,733,000 on June 30, a gain of $53,270,000 over the figure reported for June 30, 1936.

Deposits in the insured banks are listed as $852,906,000, an increase of 6 per cent over the deposit total of $802,715,000 reported at the end of June last year. Demand deposits on the latest call date amounted to $379,516,000, while time deposits totaled $473,390,000.

Loans and discounts of the reporting banks amounted to $243,861,000, according to the corporation's report, a gain of $18,389,000 over the total reported June 30, 1936.

At the end of June, the banks reported cash on hand and due from other banks amounting to $229,450,000, compared with the 1936 total of $209,150,000.

Direct and guaranteed obligations of the United States government listed by the Wisconsin banks amounted to $266,514,000 on June 30, as compared with $267,463,000 reported at the same time last year. Other securities listed totaled $192,995,000 as compared with $175,874,000 on the previous June date.

According to the report, total resources in insured banks throughout the country on June 30 were $54,891,576,000, an increase of $1,313,184,000 over June 30 of last year. The report covered 13,885 banks holding more than 90 per cent of all deposits in commercial banks.

The reporting institutions announced total deposits of $47,799,892,000 a 2.5 per cent increase over the June 30, 1936 total of $46,625,749,000.

559 Lockages Made Here During August

A total of 559 lockages were made at the four locks of the city during August, according to a report from the office of the United States engineer.

The fourth lock, with 154 lockages, 15,125 tons of freight, and 366 passengers, was busiest. There were 142 boats that passed through the third lock, 132 through the second, and 131 through the first. Total tonnage through all four locks was 55,737.

Busiest lock on the lower Fox river, according to the report, was at DePere where 310 boats carrying 42,440 tons of freight passed through. At Kaukauna, 274 boats loaded with 42,318 tons were moved through the third and fourth locks.

FINDS HAT AFTER YEAR
Wisner, Neb.—(U)—J. W. Richmond of Wisner left his Panama hat in a Canby, Minn., restaurant while en route home after a vacation.

This summer, a year after lost in the hat, he stopped in the same restaurant for lunch. There was the hat, waiting for him to claim it. And it was spotlessly brushed, too.

whisper, as she looked from the obscurity of the eastern ridges to the bright promise of the western peaks, towering above them.

Kay raised her head from Ted's shoulder, but before following Marion's look her eyes anxiously sought Zeke Farley. He nodded a sympathetic assent to her unspoken question.

"He's free, all right!" He motioned his men to take Josh Hastings' body and go ahead. A grin of satisfaction spread over his face as Kay slipped her hand through Ted's arm and faced him with radiantly happy eyes.

"How about coming back with me?" He cocked a quizzical eye at Marion. "I'll send up a couple of cayuses for those two. I reckon they won't mind waiting."

"I'd love to! I want to get back as soon as possible!" Marion eagerly accepted his suggestion, and before Kay or Ted could remonstrate, she kissed her hand to them and sprang up before Zeke Farley.

A moment later, and they had followed the rest around a bend in the trail, leaving Kay and Ted alone with the sunrise.

"Sweetheart!" Ted held Kay away for a moment, as he gazed at the bright glory of her hair in the morning sunlight that now included them in its golden radiance.

"Marion is right!" The future is ours!" He pulled her gently to him, and for a breathless interval, future and past were forgotten in the magic of the present.

Hunters Must Report on Amount of Game Killed

Each hunter, when he applies for a hunting license this year, will receive a game census report blank which must be filled out and returned to the Wisconsin Conservation commission before next Feb. 1, according to John E. Hantschel, Outagamie county clerk.

On the report blank the hunter must show the number of each species killed. This is required under a state law, according to the county clerk. Last year the total estimated kill of all species of game was 2,919,169.

Badger Exports Decline This Year

Value of Goods Three Times Higher in First 7 Months of 1936

Washington—Exports from Wisconsin in July 1936, were nearly 12 times greater in value than they were this July, the commerce department reports.

The total value of exports from the customs district of Wisconsin in July was $18,565 compared with last July when the value of exports was $205,108.

The value of goods exports from Wisconsin during the first seven months of 1936 was over three times the value of exports during the first seven months of this year.

These figures take into consideration only those goods actually shipped from the customs district of Wisconsin, which may or may not be Wisconsin products, while goods produced in the state may be exported elsewhere.

Imports into Wisconsin in July were valued at $1,110,511, an increase of about 17 per cent over the July 1936 value of $954,306. Imports during the first seven months of the year more than doubled in value over the same period of last year. The value of imports for the first seven months of this year was $7,270,898 an increase of $3,716,222 over the 1936 total value.

Tomorrow & Wednesday

Before you select your new fall wardrobe, let this famous fashionist fit you with Artist Model. It's the original all-in-one with a detachable bra... so you can wear it all through the day and for evening—simply remove the daytime bra, fasten on a low back evening one and there you are! Artist Model will give you the small, romantic waist, slim hips and high bustline you need for your new frocks and gowns—and here's the opportunity to be fitted by one of Artist Model's creators!
